

Chapter 64

Chapter 64

+15 BONUS

Alyssa wasn't wearing a cumbersome evening gown. Instead, she chose a black suit of her own design

Adorning her chest was another masterpiece from the top jewelry designer, Alexa. It was a brooch made of yellow diamonds.

She made a very spectacular entrance. Her fashion style was simple and distinctive. It effortlessly overshadowed the group of spoilt upper-class people.

They were all pampered princesses. But Alyssa had always been a domineering queen!

Liana couldn't take her eyes off Alyssa. She was resentful and bitter as she watched Alyssa become the center of attention.

At this moment, two ladies beside her gasped as they looked at Alyssa. They began to chat.

"Oh my goodness, who is this lady? She exudes such grace!"

"She's still so young. Otherwise, I would've mistaken her for some successful businesswoman. Her presence outshines even the wealthy men here!"

"Do you see that brooch on her chest? That's Alexa's legendary masterpiece, Ragnarok? Someone offered a billion for it three years ago, but Alexa sneered at the offer!"

Anyone familiar with the jewelry industry was well aware of Alexa. Everyone knew the sensation

Ragnarok" created when it was exhibited three years ago! 1

Liana was too preoccupied with anger and hadn't paid attention to Alyssa's attire. But now, as she took a closer look, she felt jealous.

"Hmph, Alice has been leeching off from Mr. Jonah."

Rosaline was overwhelmed by envy and admiration. Suddenly, she scolded her daughter, "I've raised you like a precious jewel. Yet, you're not as good as some country girl! If your aunt hadn't guided you back then and allowed you to get close to Jasper, do you think you could have won his heart with your mediocre skills?!"

"Mom! I have already won him over. Are you saying these to ruin my efforts?"

Liana clenched her fists tightly. Her eyes were bloodshot. "So what if Alice hooks up with Jonah?

The Becketts are no worse than the Taylors! Besides, they have already divorced. Nobody would want her! She's used goods! Jasper will never go back to her! He is mine forever!"

"You shouldn't put your guard down until your marriage is confirmed!"

Rosaline still had lingering fears. "Recently, Jasper has been visibly distant from you. Even I can their divorce."

+15 BONUS

She added, "There's definitely something going on Don't think you can rest easy just because Alice isn't living in Seaview Manor right now. That would be foolish!"

Liana knew that Jasper wasn't as affectionate toward her as before. She couldn't even see him. these days, let alone show her charms!

Alyssa walked past the back row, her perfume trailing behind her. Then, she passed by Sophia and Betty.

"Mom, is that village girl sitting there?" Betty asked nervously.

Sophia's smile faded. She thought it was more than enough for Alyssa to have a seat. She never expected her to head for the first row where the big shots were seated!

Jasper watched Alyssa approach him, and his heart skipped a beat. However, she didn't even spare him a glance. She ignored him and calmly took a seat in Jonah's place.

"Jonah had Ms. White represent him? I had no idea!" Landon was shocked and confused.

Jasper furrowed his eyebrow. He was breathing heavily as he glanced at the woman sitting across from him.

Alyssa smiled. She exuded an air of radiance and grace. She seemed so cold and unapproachable, like a flower blooming on the mountains, far beyond anyone's reach.

She barely looked at Jasper. It was as if he was invisible.

"Damn! So, the 'Ragnarok' is with her!" Landon slapped his thigh. He said, "Three years ago, I tried all means to get the 'Ragnarok' for my mother's birthday. I was willing to spend a billion.

"I begged Alexa and offered her everything. I even put down my pride so she'd sell me that brooch.

But she completely ignored me.

"I never expected the brooch to end in Ms. White's hands. Jonah put in a lot of effort for her. I'm truly impressed!"

Jasper's heart trembled. No one understood the feeling of going to great lengths for a loved one better than him. Back then, he had gone to Furancia to prepare a birthday gift for Liana. He had spent more than half a month of his busy schedule enduring countless cold glares and rejections to convince the designer to create the "Crimson Heart."

In the three years Alice married him, he had never given her a gift. Now that she was with Jonah, he showered her with love and dazzling diamonds

A bitter feeling surged inside Jasper He furrowed his brow fooling disheartened. It was former husband

+15 BONUS

With all the guests present, the auction officially began. Representing the Harper family was Landon. He took the stage, looking smart in a fashionable YSL suit.

Landon delivered the opening speech.

Betty had a dreamy look on her face. Her mouth was agape as she gazed at the man of her dreams.

There was thunderous applause as Landon stepped down from the stage. He smirked mischievously and playfully winked at Alyssa.

"