

Chapter 1335

"It's my cousin. He wants to talk to you," Yvonne said.

Sabrina was speechless.

After a moment, she answered the phone. "Hello, Assistant Yates, is... Is there anything wrong?"

Kingston mysteriously said on the phone, "Madam, you must not let anyone know I called you. Absolutely no one!"

His tone was incredibly anxious, but incredibly stern.

Sabrina's heart jumped. "Assistant Yates, what happened?"

On the other end, Kingston did not answer Sabrina. Instead he smiled casually, "It's nothing, Madam. Actually... It's actually nothing, I just felt a little free today, and I happened to pass by your company. I wanted to call my cousin, and felt like telling you a couple of things."

Kingston had always treated Sabrina and Aino very well. Sabrina knew that.

Furthermore, Kingston's loyalty to Sabrina greatly touched her as well.

So at that moment when she heard

So, at that moment, when she heard Kingston say that, Sabrina did not think much of it.

Right after that, Kingston said, "Madam, I feel like that woman named Lori is not a simple woman. She's too evil, so I hope you will be careful when it comes to her."

Sabrina knew that Kingston's concern was justified.

What Kingston was worried about was precisely what Sabrina was worried about.

She smiled as she said on the phone, "I already know that Lori is a vicious dog, but it's not just Lori; even her mother is the same.

"Don't worry, Assistant Yates. The two of them are b*tches, but I'm not that easily bullied either!"

When he heard Sabrina's words, Kingston smiled. "Madam, no matter what, as long as you need me, I'll do whatever you ask of me!"

"Thank you, Assistant Yates." Sabrina's heart was warmed, and she was incredibly touched.

She had wanted to give Sebastian a call in the evening, and wanted to ask Sebastian the evening, and wanted to ask Sebastian to give Kingston a raise, but since she had been too busy at work, she neglected to call him.

She thought that she would wait until she saw Sebastian at home.

Yet, at that moment, Sabrina suddenly understood.

Kingston's call during the afternoon to Yvonne was definitely because Kingston had found out something important.

Now that she thought about it, the call from that stranger definitely had something to do with Lori.

A plot by Lori?

Most definitely!

After gobbling down her food, Sabrina wanted to discuss the matter with Sebastian, but she saw Sebastian holding Aino's hand. They were walking into the child's room so he could tell the girl a story and put her to bed.

Sabrina did not say anything.

She walked into the bedroom, washed up, and showered.

As usual, she put skincare products on her and showered.

As usual, she put skincare products on her face, and put on her facemask.

After that, she waited for the man to come in.

Sabrina pulled open the door a few times with her mask still on, wondering what the man was doing.

After two more hours, when it was already deep in the night, the man walked in just as Sabrina was about to fall asleep.

He first went to the washroom to wash up. After ten minutes, he came out with droplets of water still on his face.

The man's hair had water on it as well.

Looking like that, the man seemed to exude incredible masculinity.

"Sebastian..." Sabrina called out to Sebastian before crawling out of bed, jumping into the man's arms and cutely saying, "Are... Were you jealous of that call from earlier tonight?"

"You... You didn't realize how strange that call was? I think it's Lori pulling something.

"Sebastian, are you listening to me?" When

Sebastian... Sabrina called out to Sebastian before crawling out of bed, jumping into the man's arms and cutely saying, "Are... Were you jealous of that call from earlier tonight?"

"You... You didn't realize how strange that call was? I think it's Lori pulling something."

"Sebastian, are you listening to me?" When she saw that the man did not speak, Sabrina shouted at him.

The man coldly smiled. "Do you remember what I said to you a few days ago?"

Sabrina thought about it, and she really did not remember.

She looked at her man, and shook her head in confusion.

"I won't forgive you so easily if another man tries to flirt with you again!" After that, the man pinned Sabrina down.

Sabrina was speechless.