

Chapter 1347

Beside them, Lori and her mother who were stunned silly with shock, turned out to be quite brave after all.

After all, they had been living abroad all these years. They were no strangers to a little blood and gore. Just two days ago, Lori had bled because of this damned simp!

At that moment, Lori mustered her courage, suppressing her fear as she shouted at the black-suited man, "Who... Who are you! Where did you come from? Do you know this is the Grand Sage International Hotel! You can't run! Security, don't be afraid of him. Shut the doors! He can't run away..."

Lori's words warned the security guards. One of them immediately ran to the doors and shut them.

When the black-suited man saw Lori screaming her head off at him, he immediately released the greasy man and leaped toward Lori.

"Ah..." Lori fell to the floor in a heap, her legs turning to jelly from fear.

The black-suited man snatched at the empty air. Seeing her sitting on the floor in fright, he raised his foot and was about to fright, he raised his foot and was about to slam it into Lori's body.

The soles of his army boots were made of extremely hard steel plates. With that one swift kick, Lori's thin, fragile body would not be able to withstand the impact. She would most probably suffer from major paraplegia, rendering the lower half of her body immobile.

However, at that moment, in the hotel lobby, Lori had an extremely loyal simp with her. Even though he had been badly beaten, the simp forced his swollen eyes to open, and from his limited scope of vision, he saw the black-suited man about to kick Lori, so he dashed to them and protected Lori with his body.

"Ouch..." The man spit out a mouthful of blood onto Lori's face. His body lay on hers. With the force of the man's kick, his boot poked right into her spot, and his movements could not be more accurate.

"Ouch... You damned simp! What are you doing in broad daylight!" Lori cursed furiously at him.

The simp's mind was slightly addled. He continued smiling at Lori. "I... You're my goddess! Of course, I have to protect you. I goddess! Of course, I have to protect you. I promised that I would protect you with my life. And, quickly, memorize the password to my bank account..."

Lori: "..."

Since the man was not going to admit it, she would not admit it too. But at that moment, it was obvious for all to see that this man was indeed her simp.

In that case, his whole series of actions just now must have been Lori's instructions, right?

The few women who were watching the excitement from their safe spots behind the bar finally understood the whole story.

"So it looks like this woman named Sabrina must have been framed by someone else!"

"I'm certain she was, but who is this black-suited man who is beating them up so furiously?"

"Sigh, it's a big mess alright."

"Shh, keep quiet. If this criminal heard you, we're all dead."

The criminal could not have heard the whispers of the two women behind the bar. He always acted swiftly and harshly,

He always acted swiftly and harshly, finishing the matter as soon as possible. Besides, he only acted when he was sure he could leave safe and uninjured.

However, this time, the situation was different. The main entrance to the hotel had been locked, so it looked like he would not be able to escape today.

If that was the case, he might as well kill as many as he could.

The black-suited man raised his leg and kicked the simp away from Lori. Then, he bent down and picked her up.

The first person he was going to beat to death was Lori Gibson. Because she had designed such a venomous trap for Sabrina.

However, the moment he bent down and grabbed Lori, the simp who lay beside her suddenly raised his hand and pulled off the man's mask and sunglasses.

The man's well-defined features were instantly exposed.

Sabrina blurted, "Hol.. It's really you?"
