

Chapter 1621

Alex was delighted. Perhaps because he had been in the dominant position the night before, and he had not been able to sleep for two consecutive nights, Alex slept very soundly that night.

When he woke up the next day, he realized that his woman was no longer in bed. Where did she go? It was inconvenient for her to move about. With her big pregnant belly, even getting downstairs was inconvenient for her.

Alex got out of bed in one fell swoop, and then he came out after he simply grabbed a robe and wrapped himself up. When he arrived at the stairs, he heard voices from downstairs.

“That’ll do, Madam Quinn. Just add a little water, so it’s not too thick and not too watery. The main thing was to get up early and prepare the ingredients,” said Jane gently.

The maid, Madam Quinn, then asked, “Madam, does it mean that you always had to get up very early in the morning in the

to get up very early in the morning in the past?”

Jane nodded calmly. “Mm-hmm. I used to get up at four o’clock in the morning to prepare to make porridge. The whole process basically takes up to three hours.”

“Also, these rolled oats...” asked Madam Quinn again.

“I bought these rolled oats from a local farmer in the suburbs of Kidon City. Their oats are organic. They do not use any artificial pesticides, and even the fertilizers used are all organic. The oats have a special size cut, which made it taste chewier and more aromatic,” said Jane patiently.

After all, the time they spent in South City was very little. At best they would stay here for only a month in a year.

Therefore, every time they came to South City, Jane would keep a small bag of rolled oats that were tightly sealed in her luggage. This was because she knew Alex loved the porridge she made the most, and this porridge could not be bought in the market. It was her special creation the market. It was her special creation based on Alex's taste.

When they were in Kidon City, Jane and Alex were the only ones there in Alex's place most of the time. Therefore, the maids did not know how much thought Jane had put into the matter of serving Alex. In order to let Alex have the most authentic pumpkin porridge, she practically stood guard at the farmer's house when it was almost time for harvesting. She would even pick the harvest by hand.

When she thought of the time when she was doing that, her heart was actually filled with happiness. This kind of feeling only existed when one was in love with someone. However, she did not know if she could do it again in the future as she did before. After Jane finished explaining to the maid, she then sighed quietly to herself. 1

An arm circled her in an embrace from behind her. "Jane, I had never thought that you had done so much for me in the past. I truly did not think of it. I thought I past. I truly did not think of it. I thought I could have the porridge you made for me anywhere I wanted. In the end, after you have left, I had tried a few places, but they just don't have the kind of taste like the ones you made. It wasn't until now that I learned that you had put in so much effort just so I can have an authentic porridge."

Jane raised her delicate hand and touched Alex's hand. "If I have time in the future, I will make it again for you. Alex, the porridge today is done. Let's eat. We'll have to go for prenatal checkups after breakfast."

Jane wanted to have a checkup and see the child's development. After all, she had been pregnant for so long and had been on the run everywhere, so could not have done her prenatal checkups.

"Okay," Alex said very obediently.

After they had breakfast, Alex personally drove Jane to the hospital for a checkup. The checkup was very smooth. Alex kept his wife accompanied throughout the process. When she got up from the process. When she got up from the ultrasound examination table, he hurriedly went to support her. After she got down, he immediately got down on one knee to help her put on her shoes. He also kept reminding her, "Jane, careful. Be careful."

"It's fine. Since when am I that weak?" Jane felt a little embarrassed because people in the surroundings were watching her.

One of the pregnant women said with envy, "Look at her husband. He is so handsome, and he looked like a very noble man from the way he dressed. But he treats his wife extremely well. However, the couple truly is a match made in heaven. The attractive appearances of both the man and the woman can be compared to those movie stars. This is the sweetest and most attractive couple I've seen in my life."

As she was saying that, the pregnant woman turned around to face her husband. As she did that, the pregnant woman was suddenly stunned.

Chapter 1622

Sebastian had an arm wrapped around Sabrina, and Sabrina greeted Jane with a big smile. "Hello, Jane and Mister Poole, what a coincidence that we're here for our checkups at the same time?"

Jane also smiled broadly. "I had just finished mine. Look at Alex, he kept nagging. I have been with him for eight years, and I don't know since when did he become such a nag. Alex, you should learn from your best friend, Mister Ford."

The pregnant woman, who was envious of Jane just now, stood in the middle and was speechless. Was she going to win the lottery today?

There was a sweet and attractive pregnant couple standing opposite of her. In the end, when she turned around, only then did she realize that there was also another even sweeter and even more attractive pregnant couple standing behind her. On top of that, these two couples knew each other.

The pregnant woman stared at Jane and

The pregnant woman stared at Jane and Alex, and then she turned her head around to look at Sabrina and Sebastian. She only regained her senses after a few seconds, and then she said to her husband, "Come on, let's go get a lottery ticket, hubby. I feel as if I definitely can win a prize today."

The pregnant woman and her husband headed out. At that moment, the pregnant woman was much stronger than her husband's. Her husband was so forcefully dragged by her that he could only follow her steps closely behind her.

"Say, how can a pregnant woman like you do things on impulse without any careful consideration. You had just finished with your prenatal checkup, and you want to go buy lottery tickets? Weren't you still making a fuss with me just now saying that your feet were swollen and you wanted to quickly get in the car to rest?"

"My feet are not in pain now, so it's fine if they were a little swollen. I can endure it. I just want to buy lottery tickets now. I'll buy ten tickets at one go, no, a I'll buy ten tickets at one go, no, a hundred."

Her husband's eyes widened. "Have you gone mad? Are you giving up on our normal and honest life now?"

The pregnant woman was still dragging her husband and acting like a spoiled child. "Hubby, just listen to me. We have to get lottery tickets today because I feel extremely lucky today."

"Did you...find some money? How did I not see it?" asked the husband irritably.

The pregnant woman was probably annoyed by her husband's question, so she impatiently said, "My luck today is much better than just picking some money somewhere, alright? I asked the doctor just now, what should I eat to ensure my child would be born beautiful? Guess what the doctor said to me? The doctor asked me to look at happy and beautiful things more often. It would be best if I could look at pictures of extremely beautiful movie stars every day, then my child would also be born beautiful. Although I didn't see any beautiful. Although I didn't see any famous movie stars today, I saw two married couples whose appearance was even more attractive than those movie stars. There were two pairs, that's four people, and they all looked so good. The main thing was that the two couples were very sweet. The men were very nice to the women. More to the point, one of the couples was in front of me, and the other was behind me. I was in between them! Hubby, how great was my luck?"

The pregnant woman's husband was both annoyed and amused. "It turns out that it was because you have seen two very beautiful pregnant women and their mighty-looking husbands!"

"That's right!"

"Does that have the slightest bit of relation to you buying lottery tickets?"

The pregnant woman was speechless.

Behind her, the four people, Sabrina, Sebastian, Jane, and Alex, were beaming from ear to ear. When Alex saw Sebastian smile, he suddenly said emotionally, " smile, he suddenly said emotionally, "Sebastian, you didn't smile much in the past. I have been like a brother to you for so many years, and I rarely see you smile. You truly have changed a lot now."

Sebastian raised his hand and punched Alex. "You will know when you become a father. That little beast beside you will have a hundred thousand questions to ask you why things were so, will have thousands of strange ideas to discuss with you, and will ask for your accompaniment all day long. When the time comes, all of your viciousness would be involuntarily smoothed out by the little thing."

"How amazing! I can't wait. In another three months, I'll be a father," Alex said excitedly.

Seeing Alex so happy, Sabrina asked, "How was the result of the checkup?"

Speaking of the prenatal checkup, Jane smiled in disbelief. "I truly didn't expect that this child of mine, who had been through such great suffering with me, would still unexpectedly grow so well."

Chapter 1623

“Do you know why I’m so weak and pale?” asked Jane.

Sabrina was puzzled. “What’s the matter, Jane?”

Jane pointed at her belly. “I’m only six months pregnant now, but this little is already larger than average. Although I didn’t have a good nutritional intake, this little thing in my belly is very good at self-regulation. He had sucked all of my nutrition away. This little guy! He is very strong.”

Sabrina smiled. “See, Jane, life is just like that. Any form of life in this world is actually very strong and can’t be easily destroyed. It’s the same for the baby in your belly. Look how positive his desire to live is.”

“That’s right,” Jane said with a smile of relief.

Sabrina looked at Jane’s pale face. “Jane, you should have something nutritious. You’re too thin and weak. It would be hard for you to deliver the child when the You're too thin and weak. It would be hard for you to deliver the child when the time comes. After I'm done with my checkup, I'll take you to my mother's place, and I'll ask me to cook something nice for you. ①

"Jane, you still haven't met my mom, right? She is a very good cook, and she even has a vegetable garden. I'll take you to try my mom's cooking later. There will also be a few more friends, and we can get together and have a jolly time."

Jane gladly agreed. Jane and Alex then sat in the long corridor at the gynecology department and waited for Sabrina and Sebastian.

After more than an hour, Sabrina's checkup was completed. In comparison to Jane, Sabrina's condition was much worse. She had been having signs of miscarriage. Although she was already four months pregnant, the doctor's tone was still not very positive.

When they came out, Sebastian looked very concerned. Sabrina, on the other hand, was more optimistic than hand, was more optimistic than Sebastian. "It's fine, Sebastian."

After all, Sabrina had been on the run for six years. Her situation was different from Jane. Jane actually was only framed by Lily in the last half a month, which led her to live an even more miserably vagrant life. However, Sabrina was different. Ever since the moment she started to be on the run, she had to shoulder the burden of protecting her child and her brother, Zayn.

She was on the run throughout her entire pregnancy and she also had to take care of Zayn. She was often so poor that she had no idea when her next meal would be. So much so that after she had just given birth, she did not even take a month to rest, and she went on to do manual work that even men were reluctant to do.

In those six years, to take care of her family, child, and brother, Sabrina had been working from dawn to dusk. Her life was very difficult. Therefore, within those short few years, her health had deteriorated beyond measure. It would be very tough if she wanted to nurse her very tough if she wanted to nurse her health back within a short period of time.

Whenever Sebastian thought of Sabrina's health becoming like that, Sebastian would feel so guilty that he wanted to blow his own head up. It was Sabrina who persuaded Sebastian in turn instead. "Sebastian, as long as it's something I insist on doing, I have never failed at it. I just want my children in my belly, and they would certainly be fine!"

Sebastian was very touched, but he did not say anything. He was even more terrible at expressing himself than Alex. He just gently wrapped his hands around his wife and said, "Come on, let's go have lunch at your mother's."

Sabrina nodded. "Mm-hmm."

That morning, they drove to Gloria's country house in two separate cars.

When Jane saw Gloria as soon as the four of them entered the door, she was stunned. "It's...it's you?"

Chapter 1624

Gloria was stunned when she saw Jane. Immediately after that, she came up to Jane and held her hands. "Look at how fated we are. I never expected that you, my benefactor, would be friends with my daughter."

Jane's tears kept streaming down her face. "Ma'am, so you're actually Sabrina's mother? Why didn't you tell me earlier?"

Gloria laughed. "Silly child, I didn't know you were good friends with Sabrina back then, right? Maybe you didn't know Sabrina too then."

"Mom, you and Jane...what's going on?"
Sabrina was stunned.

Gloria smiled. "When I had just escaped from Lincoln's, I fled to the foot of a mountain and fainted from starvation. It was Jane who saved me."

Sabrina instantly became excited. "Thank you, Jane."

you, Jane.”

Jane said apologetically, “I had originally wanted to keep your mom to be a maid. I had asked her for a long time where her home was and did she have any family left in her hometown. I wanted to take her to get a personal health certificate. In the end, your mom left by herself when I wasn’t paying attention. Ma’am, I have searched for you for many days.”

Gloria smiled apologetically. “I didn’t know if my daughter was alive or not back then, and I had just escaped from the Lynn family. I often heard that the maid of the Lynn family said that their daughter, Selene, was going to marry the richest and most powerful man in South City. I was afraid that the Lynn family would rely on the man’s powers and play tricks, so I did not dare to show myself. I could only hide everywhere and hope that I can see my daughter’s return one day.”

“Mom...” Sabrina was all choked up that she could not speak.

Gloria smiled gently. “It’s all water under the bridge now. Isn’t everything great, the bridge now. Isn't everything great, now? I'm very happy. Also, I have your whole lot of friends coming over to accompany me. I'm already very contented. Quickly come in. Both of you are pregnant. Come in and rest."

The other people in the house had arrived earlier than Sabrina, Jane, and their partners, and they were all people that Jane had known. However, there was still an unfamiliar face. The man had a gentle and humble smile, and he was rather familiar with Jane. "Jane, you're finally back."

Jane looked at him. "You are..?"

Before the man could answer, Aino ran into the man's arms and introduced him to Jane proudly. "Aunt Jane, this is my uncle."

Jane instantly understood that the man in front of her was named Zayn Smith. The man and Sabrina were not biological siblings, but they were even closer than that. This was particularly so here at Gloria's. Zayn was even more like the master of the house. Although he Gloria's Zayn was even more like the master of the house. Although he addressed Gloria as ma'am, the things that he did was as if he was Gloria's son.

Seeing that Zayn was busy serving the guests, Gloria has much less work to do. She pulled Jane to sit in front of her and said gently, "My child, you've been through a lot."

Jane shook her head. "Ma'am, compared to you, what I've been through is nothing. I have heard some of your experiences from Sabrina."

Gloria sighed. "Majority of the people in this world are yearning for something but just could not get it. When I was little, I had always wanted a father's love, but my father would rather give his love to a person who had no blood relations to him. This was because he felt that I was his humiliation. Later on, I had already gone through a few decades of hardships, and no longer needed the protection of a father's love anymore, but he wanted us to acknowledge each other instead. As he is already old, and he needed the joy of having his family around him, I relented.

o acknowledge each other instead. As he is already old, and he needed the joy of having his family around him, I relented. You see, he also had something he yearned for. There's also Sabrina. She grew up wanting new clothes but had never gotten them. She had been bullied and beaten up since young. When she had grown up, she had been abused by her biological father. Also, Zayn was clearly a young gentleman of an eminent family and was born with a silver spoon in his mouth. However, he suffered together with Sabrina and was not able to stand for six years."

Chapter 1625

“All of the people I’ve mentioned are people around you, my child. We’re all hanging in there, so you see, everything is a lot better now. Zayn can walk normally again. I have found my daughter. Although my father and I are not on very good terms now, I no longer resent him that much anymore. Everything will be better, my child.”

Jane nodded. “Missus Scott, I understand. I know. I will be strong and optimistic. I will protect the child in my belly and will fight for my marriage. I will fight for everything within my rights.”

Jane then turned around and glanced at Alex. “If he dared to bully me in the future, I will not let him off so easily. I will take all of his properties as my own. If he dares to wrong me, then I’ll make him leave the marriage without getting any of the properties! Alex Poole, you listen up! I have many people backing me up now! I have Missus Hill, Missus Scott, Sabrina, Ruth, and Yvonne to back me up!”

"Me, me, me! There's also me! You also have my uncle, as well as my Aunt Ruth and Aunt Yvonne to back you up," Aino said in a hurry.

Alex immediately smiled. "See how many people are backing you up. Even the little child, Aino, is united with you now. She used to keep calling for me in the past. Jane, you missed out on a person who would be backing you up!"

Jane was startled. "Who else?"

"The child in your belly," said Alex.

Jane instantly blushed. However, she had a happy smile on her face at that moment. Just like what Missus Scott had said, the majority of the people in this world have something they yearned for but could not get. It was as if it was part of life to experience the sufferings.

However, it was fortunate for Jane that her child and Missus Hill were still with her. Only Noah was no longer with her.

Jane would live well from then on for the sake of Missus Hill, her own child, the sake of Missus Hill, her own child, the late Noah, as well as these people who cared for her. She gradually had an strong and calm expression. Seeing Jane become better, Sabrina also felt quite relieved.

After they finished their meal, Gloria took a moment to talk to Sabrina alone.

"Sabrina, your brother is already so old and he is still single. You're not worried for him?" said Gloria.

Sabrina said, "Well...what can we do then?"

Gloria sighed. "He is such a nice person. It was all because of you that he had waster almost seven years. You have to think for him from time to time and see if there are any suitable girls to introduce to him. Nigel has a little girlfriend. Marcus has Yvonne. Ryan has Ruth. Can't you just find one for Zayn?"

Sabrina smiled helplessly. "Mom, I'm not a matchmaker."

Sabrina was standing in the kitchen and doing the dishes with her mother. She could see the entire living room when she could see the entire living room when she looked out from the kitchen. She looked at Zayn, who was in the living room, and then sighed. "My brother is now in charge of the entire Smith Group. He is also one of the outstanding people in South City. If he wanted to find a girlfriend, he could simply draw up to a hundred people from his company alone. But he didn't like any of them."

Gloria also sighed. "I'm just afraid that he still can't move on from you. He had almost lost both his legs for you. You can't let him waste his whole life on you anymore. It's too unfair for him."

Sabrina nodded. "Yes."

Just as she was thinking where she could find a girl to introduce to Zayn, Sabrina's phone rang. She glanced at the number and found it very strange. She then answered the call. "Hello, who's this?"

"It's me. Do you remember me?" A cold voice came from the other end.

Chapter 1626

Sabrina frowned. "You are?"

The voice on the phone was indeed too shrill. It was both shrilling and hoarse. Sabrina could not even tell if that was a male or female voice.

"Hahaha." That voice laughed extremely eerily like the devil. "You don't remember me, do you? I am your dream, your nightmare! Maybe I will creep into your dream tonight and torture you to death!"

Sabrina rolled her eyes. "Lily Parker! You're crazy! Do you think I'm a three-year-old child?"

It was indeed Lily on the other end of the line. "You're the crazy one, you d*mned thing! B*tch! If you didn't bring a few women with you to my fiancé's house and beat me up into a pulp, I wouldn't have ended up like this today! If you didn't back Jane up, she probably would have died a long time ago! Sabrina Scott! I will certainly creep into your dream and viciously torture you!"

Sabrina scoffed. "You're wrong, Lily!"

Sabrina scoffed. "You're wrong, Lily! Between you and Jane, regardless if there are our external interference or not, you are destined to lose. Perhaps you have never known why! Let me tell you! There are only the fond memories of your first love between you and Alex. This fondness had already been worn down to nothing during Alex's long years of waiting. He only had patience and tolerance for you, and that would be exhausted sooner or later. Alex is a human made of flesh and blood, and he has feelings like any other human. When he was injured, drunk, had a cold or fever, it was Jane who was accompanying him by his side. His stomach is not well. To let him have a pumpkin porridge that is good for digestion, Jane purposely went to the suburbs to buy organic rolled oats, and she would even pick out the best oats going through one by one."

She continued. "May I know what you have done for Mister Poole? Other than taking things from him, what else have you done? You have done nothing! You and Mister Poole had never spent time together at all. Do you know how together at all. Do you know how important time is to a person? It's as important as life itself! Jane had gone through eight years together with Mister Poole! She began accompanying him shortly after you left Mister Poole. That was also the most painful time for him. His wounds were soothed by Jane! How many eight years are there in a person's life? Lily, you have lost to yourself. It was your own doing! So, how can you blame others? I can tell you very clearly that regarding the matter of Mister Poole's search for Jane, I have never helped Jane at all because she didn't want to drag us into it! Also, because I was overwhelmed with my own matters at that time. Therefore, you can't blame it on anyone!"

Lily suddenly burst into tears on the other end of the phone. She cried in a hoarse and miserable manner. "My fault? My fault? It turns out it's all my fault? I was too willful. I was too confident. Everything was my fault?"

Sabrina was speechless. Hearing Lily's miserable tone, Sabrina did not know what she should say anymore. However, what she should say anymore. However, Sabrina was not fond of Lily at all. Lily was such a pretentious woman. No matter if she is dead or alive, and how miserable was, it was the consequence that she should bear herself. It has nothing to do with Sabrina.

Just when Sabrina was about to hang up the call, Lily suddenly said with a dreadfully cold and vicious tone. "Why? Why are you so lucky? Why do all the men like you? You clearly had already given birth to a child. What exactly does he like about you? Aren't you just a b*tch?"

"What the hell, you're crazy!" Sabrina exclaimed. She immediately hung up the call. She did not know who Lily was referring to. Was it Alex? How could that be possible. Alex only liked Jane, and anybody could tell that.

What a crazy woman. Sabrina switched off her phone and continued doing the dishes. 1

"Who was it?" asked Sabrina's mother.

Chapter 1627

“Lily Parker!” answered Sabrina.

There was a pause before she elaborated, “It’s that woman who tried snatch the man with Jane. She is so stupid, but she blames others!”

“That woman is stupid enough. She is never going to be able to snatch away Jane’s man anymore in this life. Sabrina, since Jane has already returned, you should not worry about that anymore. The most important thing now is to worry about your brother. He is already in his early thirties, it’s time to find a woman and settle down.”

Sabrina nodded. “I know, Mom. Mom, you care about my brother more than me now.”

Her mother laughed. “That’s true. He is such a poor boy. He also cares about me. He is like my own son. I feel like I have an additional child. A son and a daughter. Therefore, Sabrina, you must find someone your brother likes and quickly someone your brother likes and quickly let them get married and have children. This way, I will then have a few more grandchildren.”

“Roger that! My dear mother!” said Sabrina as she acted cutely. That was a task entrusted to her by her mother, so of course, Sabrina would be doing it seriously. 1

After she parted with everyone and left her mother’s place that afternoon, Sabrina turned to Sebastian. “Sebastian, are there any beautiful women in your company?”

The driver who was driving had multiple question marks popped up in his head. ‘Why?’

Even Aino, who was sitting in between her mom and dad, raised her head to look at her mother with puzzlement. “Mom, are you feeling feverish today?” 1

As she said that, Aino raised her little hand to touch her mother’s forehead, and then she touched her own forehead. “There’s no fever. Mom, why are you There's no fever. Mom, why are you asking Dad if there are any beautiful women in his company?"

Sabrina looked at Aino, then looked at Kingston, who was stunned. After that, she looked at her own man again.

Sebastian did not say anything. He had something on his mind at that moment. He had received three calls from abroad in the past couple of days. The voice had been put through a voice changer, and speech was very short for every call. Only the word 'why' was spoken each time.

Sebastian was guessing who it could be.

Just over an hour ago that same day, when he had been casually chatting with Alex in his mother-in-law's living room, Sebastian received the call again. It was just the word 'why' again. There seemed to be a mixture of love and hate in that voice! Therefore, at that moment, Sebastian had been speculating who this person could be.

Seeing Sabrina looking at him, Sebastian asked, "What did you say?"

"I'm asking you, does the Ford group

"I'm asking you, does the Ford group have a beautiful and elegant woman who is also a high-ranking executive as well? She must be a very beautiful woman. She must at least be someone that would meet your standards," said Sabrina very seriously.

Sebastian was speechless. After a long while, he cleared his throat and very inconceivably said, "Sabrina, what...do you mean? Could it be because you're not as sharp after being pregnant, and you're afraid that women out there would come looking for me, so you want to..."

Sebastian stopped mid-sentence and did not continue any further. He had never been interested in beautiful women. In those six years without Sabrina, he had remained self-restrained. He had never taken another look at any beautiful women at all! Could it be that the woman wanted to please her husband so badly that she actually thought of such a self-damaging tactic just because she was pregnant and could not do that activity with him?

"What are you thinking?" Sebastian pregnant and could not do that activity with him?

“What are you thinking?” Sebastian scolded Sabrina. She suddenly understood that they must have misinterpreted her intentions.

“I mean, does your company have an outstanding and beautiful woman who could be introduced to my brother to be his girlfriend!” said Sabrina fiercely.

Sebastian looked shocked. “Are you asking me to be...a matchmaker?”

Chapter 1628

"That's right!" Sabrina said.

Sebastian was left dumbfounded for a long while. He had never expected that he, the director of the Ford group and the King of South City, would actually be reduced to being a matchmaker for someone?

Sebastian looked at Kingston, who then nodded solemnly, indicating that madam indeed meant just that. Sebastian then looked at his daughter. His daughter very delightfully said to Sebastian, "Dad, I truly like you being a matchmaker very much. You know that my uncle is already over thirty years old, but he still has no girlfriend. In the past, mom and I were there to accompany him. Now, he is all by himself. How lonely he must be."

Sebastian was speechless. After a long while, he said with a very strong sense of jealousy, "Your uncle has functioning legs now!"

Aino was speechless. What did her uncle having functioning legs got to do with him not having a girlfriend?

him not having a girlfriend?

Sebastian had no choice but to explain again. "He can walk now. He can go out and get himself a girlfriend!"

"My uncle is very honest," Aino said.

Sabrina nodded. "My brother had always been very honest and by the books. It's truly putting him in a difficult position if you ask him to go find a girl himself."

Sebastian was speechless. He finally could see it. He truly had been raising two ungrateful wretches! He had saved and treated Zayn all because of the two of them! If it were not for them, he would have thrown that brat into the river and fed him to the fish! After he had saved Zayn, he had even helped Zayn snatch back the large Smith Group! That was still not enough! The two of them were actually asking him to be a matchmaker!

"Do you believe that I will throw that brat into the river and feed him to the fish?" asked Sebastian unreasonably.

Sabrina and Aino said at the same time, "I don't believe it!"

I don't believe it!"

Sebastian once again looked at Kingston. The driver firmly shook his head indicating that he did not believe him either.

Sebastian was speechless.

At that moment, the driver boldly spoke up. "Master Sebastian, I think you'd better be the matchmaker."

Sebastian did not understand. "Why?"

Kingston swallowed nervously. "Well..."

"Be straightforward!"

"I'm afraid that the madam and the little princess would smack me."

Both Sabrina and Aino looked at Kingston and smiled. Sabrina voiced out first. "Introducing a girl to my brother is a good thing, so what would I smack you for?"

Aino immediately added, "That's right, Uncle Kingston. My mom certainly will not smack you. I also would not smack you. Just say it. Why did you suggest my dad introduce a girl to my uncle?"

dad introduce a girl to my uncle?"

Kingston confirmed again. "Really not going to smack me?"

The two of them nodded their heads solemnly. "Absolutely not!"

"It's like this, Master Sebastian. If you introduced a girl to Master Zayn and she successfully became his girlfriend, then he would have his own life," Kingston said. "After that, he may even get married very soon and have children. When the time comes, Master Zayn could only care about his wife and children, then how will he still..."

Sebastian's eyes instantly lit up. "Alright, I will start to help that brat find a girlfriend from my company tomorrow!"

Chapter 1629

Sabrian and Aino were both speechless. Sabrina only realized what Kingston meant after a long while. "Kingston!"

"Uncle Kingston!"

Kingston grimaced. "Madam and little princess, you have agreed not to smack me. Besides, don't you also wish for Master Zayn to start a family as soon as possible, have a woman loving him, and then have his own children? Master Zayn truly is too miserable."

Kingston sounded sincere. Not only did he feel that Master Zayn would be miserable, but even Master Sebastian also felt so too. Otherwise, Master Sebastian would not have spent such a huge amount of money to cure Master Zayn's legs. He had even exhausted all his efforts to take back Master Zayn's family business for him. Master Zayn was Master Sebastian's love rival! Even Yvonne also felt sorry for Zayn, let alone Master Sebastian.

"Madam, in fact, Yvonne and Master Shaw had already been planning to introduce a girl to Master Zayn. It was Shaw had already been planning to introduce a girl to Master Zayn. It was just that you have been on bed rest recently and had not been to work, so you didn't know."

Speaking of that, Kingston suddenly sighed. Sabrina could not help but ask, "What's wrong?"

There was a pause before Kingston said, "Yvonne had already introduced a few to Master Zayn, but unfortunately he did not seem to be interested in finding a girlfriend. He..." Kingston seemed like he wanted to say something but he stopped.

Sabrina looked concerned. "Kingston, is it because you've noticed that my brother's...sexual orientation is different from what we expected?"

Sebastian was surprised. Although he hated that brat and he was also jealous of him, Sebastian still cared for this relative quite a bit. Sebastian looked at Kingston with a worried expression.

Kingston suddenly sighed, and then he laughed. "No, it's not what you think! But laughed. "No, it's not what you think! But ...I also don't know about Master Zayn's sexual orientation. He is not only not interested in finding a girlfriend, but I have also not seen him being interested in men either."

"Then what exactly are you trying to say?" Sabrina was anxious.

Kingston immediately said, "Because Yvonne kept introducing girls to Master Zayn recently, I have gotten slightly more in touch with him. I realized that other than going to the company to work, the place that Master Zayn had most frequent was actually the homeless shelter."

"Homeless shelter?" Sabrina did not understand.

"Yes, it's the kind of shelter that is dedicated to sheltering homeless people. There are men and women of all ages in there. Master Zayn had spent most of his spare time taking care of these homeless people in the shelter. He would personally send meals, clothes, and so on to the shelter every other day. Also, he would spend a lot of time helping them find spend a lot of time helping them find their families. Sometimes, he would even follow up to see if the vagrants were well taken care of after they had returned to their families. Once, I even saw him personally performing mouth-to-mouth resuscitation to a sixty-year-old woman. That woman was very dirty all over and smelled particularly bad.”

Both Sabrina and Sebastian were speechless.

Aino instantly began to tear up. “My uncle ...he...back then when we were in Ciarrai county, we were almost the same as the vagrants. At that time, my mom also had to work at the construction site to move bricks. When she returned home, she could be covered in mud and the jeans she wore would have holes everywhere. Uncle Zayn must have felt sorry for my mom, hence he is helping those homeless people.”

Sebastian could not help but sigh. “I never expected that the brat would still be so sentimental!”

Sabrina put her hand on Sebastian’s

Sabrina put her hand on Sebastian's shoulder. "My brother is the most kindhearted person in this world. We must help him start a family. Sebastian, you must take this seriously, and introduce a considerate and nice woman to my brother. Do you hear me?"

Sebastian nodded. "Yes."

Although he had to attend to countless matters every day and although he had often been harassed by a call from abroad in the past couple of days, Sebastian still took some time out to observe the women in the company. He truly observed them in secret like a matchmaker. After half a month, he found one.

Sebastian called Zayn personally. "Brat! I'm introducing a girl to you. Come out today to have a meal and watch a movie with the girl."

"Sebastian, what...what did you say?"
Zayn asked.

Chapter 1630

Zayn absolutely could not believe his ears. Sebastian was actually introducing a girl to him? If someone was concerned about his personal matters, should it not be Missus Scott or Sabrina? How...did it end up becoming a concern of Sebastian?

“Sebastian...what have you...become after being forced by Sabrina and Aino? When I heard others say that you were a henpecked man back then, I didn't believe it. I now...Sebastian, I now have no choice but to believe it.” Zayn was no longer afraid of Sebastian anymore.

Six years ago, he had been unfamiliar with Sebastian, so he also did not dare to get close to him. The majority of Zayn's understanding of Sebastian came from Nigel. Nigel said that Sebastian had killed countless people, and was a cruel and bloodthirsty person. He said Sebastian was heartless and vicious. and he did not even show the slightest bit of mercy to his few half-brothers.

How terrified was Zayn of this living Hades back then? Zayn recalled that Hades back then? Zayn recalled that when he first met Sebastian along with Nigel, his legs would always turn to jelly. Afterwards, Zayn would curse himself for being a coward. Later on, it was Sabrina who made him become a brave and courageous man. He had learned to not be afraid of Sebastian, but the fear deep down inside was still present.

However, things were different at the moment. At that moment, Zayn understood Sebastian and he had seen the fatherly side of Sebastian. Zayn learned that Sebastian also had once suffered greatly. Also, he realized that Sebastian was actually a very righteous person to his bones, especially after Sebastian had helped him take back the Smith Group. Zayn felt even more so that Sebastian was actually not scary at all.

At that moment, not only was Zayn close to Sabrina and Aino, but he also could not help being close to Sebastian. Zayn even felt that he was closer to Sebastian than he was with Nigel. Therefore, he knew very well that if Sebastian was not forced by someone, then why would such a very someone, then why would such a very manly person like Sebastian take on the task of finding him a girlfriend?

Zayn could not help but laugh. "Sebastian ...you're introducing a girl to me? What does she look like? Is she beautiful?"

Sebastian sounded annoyed. "Cut the crap! Don't let the girl feel anxious from waiting!"

Zayn immediately answered, "Roger that! Sebastian!"

To be honest, he really had no thoughts on finding a girlfriend to start a family and so on. He had even thought it through to not get married in this life. He had already planned how to distribute his properties in the future, which was to give half of it to his sister, and the other half to Aino. If Aino has younger siblings, then Aino's half would be equally divided among the siblings. However, because it was Sebastian who would be introducing the girl to him, Zayn had no choice but to bite the bullet and go on the blind date.

Blind date! That was truly unfamiliar and bite the bullet and go on the blind date.

Blind date! That was truly unfamiliar and a little embarrassing to him. Back when he was about twenty five years old and was mingling with Nigel, he had fooled around with girls. However, he did not go as crazy as Nigel.

At that moment, seeing those homeless women in the shelter, he would also feel incredibly sorry for them because that would make him think of those years he had spent wandering out there with Sabrina, and how they overcame that suffering. Sabrina had turned him into a compassionate person, so regardless of old or young, beautiful or ugly, Zayn only has a sense of respect towards women.
