

Chapter 1833

Holden suddenly burst out crying.

“Haha!” Malvolio laughed even more hysterically. “Sebastian! Surprisingly, your brother didn’t know how caring you are, but I knew! Back then, you almost died trying to save Alex’s life. You had also been a hair’s breadth away from death for the sake of protecting Alex. In fact, you’re not vicious at all, especially to your own family. I know you better than anyone. Therefore, today, your brother and your wife are in my hands. Do you dare to send a soldier or use an explosive against me?”

Sebastian answered truthfully. “I don’t dare to.”

Sebastian answered truthfully. "I don't dare to."

"Haha! Hahaha! I'm truly overjoyed!" Malvolio threw his head back and laughed. " Sebastian, this is it for today. I will call you again in a month. Because in a month, I'll have everything ready. If you want your wife to return to you and your brother to live, then behave yourself."

"What do you want? The Ford Group? South City? As long as it's something I have, I can give it all to you," Sebastian asked.

"I will write a proper list within this one month," Malvolio said.

At that moment, Sabrina shouted at the top of her lungs. "Sebastian, he wants revenge!

shouted at the top of her lungs. “

Sebastian, he wants revenge!

Ultimately, what he wants is your life! Sebastian...”

The call ended. Sabrina looked at Malvolio fearlessly as if she was unfazed by death. Malvolio raised his hand and wanted to slap Sabrina, but in the end, his hand stopped midair. He then touched Sabrina’s face. “I won’t hit you, and I won’t kill you. I want to let you know how much I cherish such a rare and fine woman like you. I will wait until I get everything, then only will I marry you. Do you know why? Because with you in my hand, I will absolutely win for sure. You are my invincible weapon. With you around, Sebastian will obediently come to die!”

Sabrina was speechless. At that you around, Sebastian will obediently come to die!”

Sabrina was speechless. At that moment, she felt hopeless and annoyed. It was also because of this hopelessness and annoyance that she developed a fighting spirit. She sneered. “Alright! I’ll wait for it!”

Malvolio was very satisfied with Sabrina’s reply. He turned around and shouted into the loudspeaker. “Set sail! Return to the island!”

The ship instantly sailed off. The ship that sailed off from South City went further and further away from the city. Sabrina felt more and more angry. Tears gradually vanished from her eyes and all that was left was only viciousness.

eyes and all that was left was only viciousness.

On the other hand, Aino and Gloria were hugging each other and bawling their eyes out in Sabrina's house in South City at that moment.

"My poor granddaughter, I will take good care of you. Your mother will certainly return. Your mother is the strongest. Do you know that, baby?" Gloria said that as she hugged Aino.

Aino nodded her head. "Mm-hmm, I know that, Grandma. We'll wait for my mom's return together. My mom will certainly be able to return very quickly." She raised her head and looked at her father. "Dad, our whole family will fight that big bad guy together!"

family will fight that big bad guy together!"

At that moment, Sebastian was the calmest. He had always been a person who never got angry easily, and he was also a person who was never defeated easily. He calmly said to his daughter, "Before I finish Malvolio, I have to first finish another person!"

"Who is it, Dad?" Aino asked.

Before Sebastian said anything, the doorbell rang right at that moment. Who could it be?

Sebastian thought that it was Alex or Yvonne, Ruth, and the others, so called out to Aunt Lewis. "Aunt Lewis, get the door." ①

Aunt Lewis immediately ran to the entrance and opened the door quickly. However, she was Aunt Lewis immediately ran to the entrance and opened the door quickly. However, she was stunned right when she opened the door.

“Please leave! Leave!” she shouted furiously.

However, Aunt Lewis did not stop the person who came. The person who came still pushed Aunt Lewis aside very forcefully and came inside.

At that moment, Sebastian turned around. When he saw the person who came, a raging fire instantly rose in both his eyes. “You actually came here!”
