Children were born with incomparably sensitive senses. After all, children's thoughts were purer than adults. Even people such as Kingston, who had sharp eyes and ears, may not be able to notice this movement in the surroundings, let alone Zayn, who had a gentle nature.

Instead, Aino saw a pair of eyes from afar. The pair of eyes were incomparably vicious. It made Aino suddenly shudder in fear.

"What's the matter, Aino?"

Zayn immediately noticed that his niece was a little out of sorts.

Aino shrugged and shook her

SORTS.

Aino shrugged and shook her head. "It's nothing, Uncle Zayn. Maybe it's just an illusion."

That pair of vicious eyes just flashed by, and Aino did not see it anymore.

"Illusion?" Zayn laughed. "You're just a six-year-old little child, and you're having illusions?"

Aino rolled her eyes in anger. "Hmph!"

She did not want to explain to her uncle, who looked down on her! Her uncle always treated her like a child! In fact, she was not that child-like anymore! She was already six years old!

ner like a child. In fact, she was not that child-like anymore! She was already six years old! Everyone in her family was occupied at that moment, and they were short on help. Both Aunt Jane and Aunt Hana were hospitalized! In the next few days, there must be a time where Aino could be of help. When the time came, Aino could even help her Aunt Hana buy breakfast! Hmph!

Aino was secretly feeling smug, but her uncle felt amused looking at her. However, who could tell what the little child was thinking in her mind? Zayn could not spare much time and thought to care for his most beloved niece during that period. He sent Aino home, then he ordered Aino very thought to care for his most beloved niece during that period. He sent Aino home, then he ordered Aino very sternly, "I have given the multiplication table that you don't know. Recite it from memory once and copy it three times today! Two hours later, I will give you a video call and check on you! If you dare to slack off, I will smack you silly!"

"I know! Bad...uncle!" Aino grunted in anger. However, she did not dare to go against her uncle's orders. Aino was not afraid of her Uncle Zayn. He was great in all aspects, and no matter when, he would also make doting on Aino as main priority. However, education make doting on Aino as main priority. However, education was the only exception. Her uncle had begun to be very strict with her since she was six years old. After her uncle left, Aino then obediently did her homework at home. After she finished with the homework given to her by her uncle, Aino made a video call to her uncle. At that moment, her Uncle Zayn was still outside of the delivery room at the hospital. Her uncle was together with her mother, Uncle Kingston, Ryan, Aunt Yvonne and Aunt Ruth. All of them looked very anxious. Aino reported the progress of her homework to her uncle, and then she asked, "Uncle Zayn, when is my mother coming home?"

when is my mother coming home?"

She was only a six-year-old little child. In the big house, other than having a few maids to keep her accompanied, both her father and mother were not back yet. The little six-year-old child was not quite used to it. This was her first being in her house alone without her parents around so late at night.

When Sabrina heard Aino say that, she began to tear up.

"Sabrina, you should return home first. Ruth and I are watching over Jane. The doctor said just now that with Jane's kind of situation, she may have to wait for a whole night before she could deliver the baby. You she could deliver the baby. You won't be able to bear it if you wait here for a whole night!"

Sabrina shook her head. "It truly was not easy for Jane to be carrying this child. She was almost a hair's breadth away from death. How can I not be keeping watch here?"

Sabrina's face was a little pale when she said that. After all, she was already in her third trimester, so she could not stand for too long and she also could not be too tired.

"Quickly go back, Sabrina! There are so many doctors here. Ryan, myself and Yvonne are also here. We can take good care of Jane. Even if Aino didn't need to be taken care of, you're care of Jane. Even if Aimo didn't need to be taken care of, you're already seven months pregnant. Your body also can't bear it!"

"That's right, Madam. Just go home. I will send you back now. If Missus Poole had given birth, we would notify you immediately." Kingston was incomparably worried about Sabrina's body. If it had not been easy for Jane to have her child, then how easy could it have been for Sabrina?

"Sabrina, listen to me. Go home!" ordered Zayn.

Sabrina nodded. "Mm-hmm. I'll go back."

Kingston was the one who sent Sabrina home. When she got Kingston was one who sent Sabrina home. When she got back to her house, the little child had already showered and was obediently sitting in the living room waiting for her mother.

“Mom, I was not afraid of being at home without you and dad because I still have Grandma Lewis and Aunt Tianna to keep me accompanied. I was just worried about your body. You are now having my sibling in your belly. You can't be too tired.” Aino was very understanding.

Sabrina laughed. “You little child! You're afraid deep down but you don't say it. Haha!”

tired.” Aino was very understanding.

Sabrina laughed. “You little child! You’re afraid deep down but you don’t say it. Haha!”

“Come on. I’ll tell you a bedtime story and I will keep you accompanied when you sleep, alright?”

Chapter 1767

“Mm-hmm.” Aino immediately nodded happily.

The little girl was so happy that she could not sleep. “Mom, has Aunt Jane given birth yet?”

“Not yet.”

“How come she still hasn’t given birth yet?”

Sabrina was speechless.

“Is she waiting for Uncle Poole to come here from Kidon City, then only will she give birth?” she asked. “Otherwise, if she had given birth earlier, then your Uncle Poole will not know how it was like for Aunt Jane to give birth to their child.

Actually, giving birth to a baby i give birth to the child.

Actually, giving birth to a baby is very hard, right Mom?"

Sabrina suddenly teared up for some reason. The child was still very young, but she knew everything. She knew that it was very difficult for mothers to give birth to their child, and they were almost a hair's breadth away from death.

When Sabrina gave birth to Aino, she could not even be certain if she would be hunted while she was giving birth at that time, let alone having the child's father present.

"You're Aunt Jane is very strong, so she should be able to wait until your Uncle Poole has arrived, then only she will give birth, so that your Uncle Poole arrived, then she will give birth, so that your Uncle Poole can properly see how hard she has worked.”

“Then when will Uncle Poole be here?” Aino suddenly teared up. “I don’t want to let Aunt Jane wait for too long. That’s too painful and tough!”

“Should be tomorrow. Tomorrow morning. When you wake up, your Uncle Poole will already be by your Aunt Jane’s side,” Sabrina assured Aino.

“Really?”

Sabrina nodded. “I promise you.”

“That’s great!” Aino became happy.

“Go to sleep, baby,” comforted

“Go to sleep, baby,” comforted Aino.

“Mm-hmm.” Aino stroked her mother’s bulging pregnant belly with her little hand and a smile was hanging on her face. While listening to the bedtime story that her mother was telling her, Aino slowly fell asleep.

However, Sabrina could not fall asleep. At this moment, she was worried about Hana’s condition, and the next moment, she was worried whether Jane had given birth. Up until that point, Zayn still has not given her a call, so she guessed that Jane still has not given birth yet. She wondered, when would Alex be able to given birth yet. He wondered, when would Alex be able to arrive in South City? How could there be such a coincidence? He had just returned to Kidon City that few days, and Jane unexpectedly went into labor half a month earlier than her due date. May God bless Jane and her child to be safe and sound.

Sabrina, who was silently praying while sitting in the living room, heard the main door being unlocked. She was so startled that she shuddered. She turned around and stared straight at the door without blinking. Not long after, a familiar figure came in from the entryway.

Sabrina was instantly

the entryway.

Sabrina was instantly surprised. "Sebastian! You're back?" She practically ran and pounced on Sebastian.

"Sebastian..." For some reason, Sabrina just suddenly really wanted to rush into Sebastian's arms and act like a spoiled child very badly at that moment.

Perhaps it was because she saw that Jane was about to give birth and perhaps it was also because she was about to give birth soon herself, that kind of misery she experienced when giving birth to Aino last time was still vivid in her mind. She did not dare to think about it. Perhaps pregnant women just did not dare to think about it. Perhaps pregnant women just like to let their mind run wild. In any case, at that moment, she just wanted to be pampered in her husband's arms.

Sebastian gently wrapped his arms around Sabrina and asked with great concern, "What's wrong? Why haven't you gone to bed? The house is so dark, but you also didn't switch on the lights."

Sabrina shook her head. She did not answer him at all. She just tiptoed, raised her head and placed her lips on Sebastian's.

Sebastian was left speechless.

Chapter 1768

Sabrina was almost seven months pregnant, so Sebastian did not dare to be careless at all. He had taken cold showers every night, and he had never let his desires get the better of him. On the contrary, Sabrina would act coquettishly, behave like a rascal and ask him for it from time to time. When it truly was too difficult for them to hold themselves back, Sebastian also would only get a slight taste of it for himself and would do his best to soothe her and satisfy her as his priority. At that moment, it was Sabrina who initiated it again. However, Sebastian could clearly feel something was wrong at that time. He cupped clearly feel something was wrong at that time. He cupped Sabrina's face and suddenly realized that Sabrina was crying.

"What's wrong?" Sebastian was shocked. She was a strong-minded and very calm woman. She hardly had any moments where she was in tears. Perhaps her emotions were unstable because of her pregnancy.

Sebastian asked gently again, "Bad mood?"

Sabrina shook her head. "Jane is about to give birth..."

"I know. Before I came back just now, I made a trip to the hospital. Yvonne and Ruth were watching over her there. I have hospital. Ivon and Ruth were watching over her there. I have also communicated with the doctor. This is Jane's first child, and she is at an advanced maternal age as she is thirty-five, so her child birth may be slightly more difficult.

However, it's fine. The best and most authoritative doctors are standing by there. It will certainly be fine."

At first, Sebastian thought that Sabrina was worried about Jane. However, she was still crying. She raised her head and looked at Sebastian in great sadness. "Sebastian, what do you think it's wrong with me? I should be happy, right? My brother is married. He finally has a happy ending, romantically speaking, and brother is married. He finally has a happy ending, romantically speaking, and found a woman who loves him so much. Also, they now have their own children. How great is that? On top of that, both Ruth and Yvonne are both engaged to be married. My grandpa, who is such a picky old man, did not have any issues with Yvonne. Ruth also did not meet any objections from the Old Master Poole, and he allowed Ruth and Ryan to be engaged. In addition, Jane, who had gone through many hardships and was a hair's breadth away from death, is finally about to be giving birth now. Say, how happy is everything now? I feel like I have never been this happy now. Say, how happy is everything now? I feel like I have never been this happy before since I was child. I had very few friends growing up, and it was not until these few years that I got to know my brother, Yvonne, Ruth, Jane, as well as my sister-in-law. They are all very happy now.

However, I don't know why, but I have been in panic for the past two days. I was particularly panicky. I always want to cry. I kept feeling like crying, and I just have a kind of very depressive feeling in my heart. Sebastian, do you think I am sick? Am I having some kind of prenatal depression? Sebastian, I..."

Sabrina was crying so hard that Sabrina was crying so hard that she could not speak anymore. "Am I being too dramatic?"

In fact, she had been having this kind of panicky feeling. She kept feeling as if something bad might be happening. She kept feeling like crying. In spite of that, she had never lost her composure in front of others. However, at that moment that day when she saw her husband, Sabrina could no longer hold it in anymore.

Seeing his wife cry like that, the man gently smiled. He wrapped an arm around Sabrina's shoulder, and raised the other arm to gently stroke the bridge of her nose. "Silly the other arm gently stroke the bridge of her nose. "Silly girl."

He called her a silly girl.

"It is said that pregnant women's temper is like children's and they are all child-like. It seems that this is not wrong at all. As your man, I have never seen you crying like a spoiled child like that. Your little nose is all red and your eyes are watery. You look even more innocent and cute than Aino," Sebastian said truthfully.

Sabrina was almost thirty years old that year, but she did not look old at all. She also hardly acted cute like a spoiled child. Therefore, Sebastian was particularly fascinated when he Therefore, Sebastian was particularly fascinated when he occasionally got to see her acting like a child.

During the time Sabrina was pregnant, Sebastian had researched a lot of information about pregnancy. A pregnant woman would experience discomfort, have poor appetite, drastic emotional fluctuations, and easily feel sentimental.

Sebastian had looked up many information on those and he knew all about it.

He put his wife in his arms, and then he put his arms under her waist and carried her in his arms. He then carried her into the bedroom and gently placed her under the covers. "I have been too busy these days. I was

He put his wife in his arms, and then he put his arms under her waist and carried her in his arms. He then carried her into the bedroom and gently placed her under the covers. "I have been too busy these days. I was too occupied to take care of my own family. I apologize to you. However you want to punish me, I will have no issues with it."

He took a pause and then thought about it again. He thought of all the ways a husband could be punished by his wife.

Chapter 1769

“How about kneeling on gravel?” he said solemnly.

Sabrina stifled a laugh. Her originally depressed mood was instantly lifted as she was amused. She wrapped her arms around her man. “Well, I can’t bear to let you kneel on gravel. How about...”

She went to undo Sebastian’s clothes. He was speechless.

“You’re already seven months pregnant,” said Sebastian.

“No! I just want it!”

He was a man with very good self-control. If it were someone else, the person would probably be having a nosebleed else, the person could probably be having a nosebleed by then. The woman had more of a feminine charm when she was pregnant, especially when she, a woman who hardly acted coquettishly, suddenly did so to him like a meek woman with great alluring charm. However, he still had a calm expression. "Be good!"

"I just don't want to!" said Sabrina who began to tear up again.

"We'll do it gently, alright?"

Sabrina blushed and nodded. The so-called doing it gently meant that he would put her in a fixed position and make her feel comfortable. He also could not let her get hurt at all. The not let her get hurt at all. The whole process was taken care of by him alone. She, on the other hand, only had to enjoy herself. As for him, it was not too much to describe it as going through sheer hell. However, as long as she was happy and got a sense of bliss, then he would also feel worth it.

After more than an hour, the woman was finally satisfied and she fell asleep. Although he did put her in a fixed position, who could control themselves in the heat of the moment?

When the woman fell asleep, not only were the covers at the side all in a mess, but all their clothes were thrown all over the floor as well. Both her slightly swollen feet were also the floor as well. Both her slightly swollen feet were also dangling off the edge of the bed. Seeing that pregnant woman who was sleeping soundly, the man raised his hand and held her soft and fair legs. The woman subconsciously jerked her legs and then mumbled, "Sebastian ..."

"Mm-hmm," he answered.

"I love you."

Sebastian was speechless. He raised his gaze and glanced at her. She was talking in her sleep. She was still muttering. "Sebastian, I love you. I...fell in love with you the first time I laid eyes on you. I have been loving you for so long...I have laid eyes on you. I have been loving you for so long...I have such a low self-esteem, Sebastian. I was so poor at the time, but I was in love with you. What could I do? I was so scared ...I gave birth to Aino. When I gave birth to Aino, I was very scared. My husband was not by my side..."

He suddenly understood why she was so sad that day. Her feelings were stirred up as she recalled past memories, and she was feeling sentimental. She saw Jane being brought into the delivery room, and she was reminded of the situation when she gave birth to Aino. Sebastian, who was sitting at the edge of the bed, would not help but recall the time when he first met her. At that time, he the edge of the bed, would not help but recall the time when he first met her. At that time, he got close to her for the sake of letting her take care of his mother. At that time, he kept thinking that she had an ulterior motive for approaching him, so he had a very bad impression of her. It could be said that he was super harsh on her.

Till this day, he could still clearly remember that Sabrina, who was already pregnant with Aino at that time, could not even afford to go for prenatal checkups back then as she did not have a single penny on her. She then asked to borrow fifty thousand dollars from him. However, he only gave her a thousand dollars from him. However, he only gave her a thousand dollars. The way he condescendingly looked down on her back then was still fresh in his mind. However, every time he recalled that, it made him feel as if his heart was pricked by needles. That was because the money were thrown on the floor by him. She, who had no way of fighting back, had to lay on the ground to pick up the money.

“I will not leave you. This time, I will definitely be by your side and face childbirth with you,” said Sebastian slowly as he hugged his wife.

Sabrina suddenly woke up. She hugged him at once. “Really?”

Chapter 1770

“Of course! I am your husband and the closest family you have. When you give birth this time, I will certainly be accompanying you and I will be closely by your side,” Sebastian said softly.

Sabrina threw herself into his arms. “Hubby, I am so happy.”

“Go to sleep.”

This time, Sabrina fell asleep very quickly. Sebastian wrapped her in his arms from behind her, and he fell asleep very quickly.

The following day, Sebastian got up at five in the morning. He truly had too many things waiting for him to deal with. He had to handle the Smith Group’s business, as well as Alex’s waiting for him to deal with. He had to handle the Smith Group's business, as well as Alex's matters. Through what Sabrina had said the day before, Sebastian was even more aware that there was still a month to go and Sabrina should be going into labor. He had to finish all the matters that he needed to handle within this period, so that he could spend twenty-four hours a day to keep his wife accompanied when her due date was near.

At a quarter past five in the morning, Sebastian left the house right on time and went directly to the airport to pick up Alex. After that, Alex briefly spoke to him about some of the matters at hand when they were on their way to the hospital.

matters at hand when they were on their way to the hospital.

Alex patted Sebastian on his shoulder and said sincerely, "Thanks, Sebastian!"

Sebastian smiled. "There's no need to thank me."

Alex sighed. "Sabrina is going to give birth soon as well, so you were already so busy to begin with. The main thing is that these matters I have on hand can't be taken over by just anybody. These are all matters about stabilizing the country and it's dense at the borders, so you're the only one who can temporarily help me to manage it."

Sebastian patted Alex's shoulder. "Don't worry!"

Sebastian patted Alex's shoulder.

"Don't worry!"

"Right, Sebastian," Alex suddenly asked. "How come there has been no movements around the southeastern border recently? I find that a little odd."

Sebastian was startled. "Hmm?"

"A while ago, there was a bit of riot at the southeastern border, but almost a month has passed, the riot, which was originally very intense, actually quieted down so much now that I've heard nothing of it. Do you know what place that is?"

"Of course, I know. That is a small island that my father and stepmother had bought with nine hundred million dollars for Holden. I heard that the island is stepmother had bought with nine hundred million dollars for Holden. I heard that the island is not even half the size of Star Island. It was originally a poverty-stricken island," Sebastian said calmly.

Sebastian sighed before he continued, "I think the person that my mother worried about the most in her life is not me, but it's my younger brother, Holden. Till the day she died, my mother did not even reveal anything at all because she was afraid that she would lose the both of us. However, I could tell from her gaze before she died that she had a concern, and it was a very strong concern. At that time, I didn't understand what was the great concern she had before she died. I now understand it. She was what was the great concern she had before she died. I now understand it. She was concerned for Holden, my younger twin brother. Of course, my mother's concern would naturally be my biggest concern. If Holden was in South City, then I will give half of the Ford Group's property to him. However, he is not in South City, so my father gave him nine hundred million dollars, as he should. If Holden could keep staying on the island and have a good development there, one of my concerns would also be considered resolved. As for him creating trouble at the borders, as long as it's nothing too big, just have one eye close, Alex."

Alex looked at Sebastian. "

Sebastian, they said that you're just have one close, Alex.”

Alex looked at Sebastian. “Sebastian, they said that you’re cold-blooded and heartless, but only a few of us knew how much you valued loyalty and relationships. What I am worried about now is not him having any movements. We are not afraid if he is having movements because at least we know his location. If he met any troubles on the island, we can go and lend him a hand at once. However, now, there are no movements there for almost a month. What happened?” asked Alex with great concern.

Sebastian was speechless. To be honest, Sebastian would still get a call from Holden from time to time, but recently, he had not received any calls for almost twenty days. He felt a little received any calls for almost twenty days. He felt a little uneasy. However, he thought that if anything were to happen to Holden, at the very least, his father and stepmother would not be this calm. Once he thought of that, Sebastian smiled. "It should be fine because there's no movements from my father as well."

Alex nodded. "That's true."

"Come on, let's go to the hospital. I had just called the doctor. The doctor said that her dilation is four fingers wide, but she hasn't given birth yet. It has been almost six hours. I wonder how Jane is doing."

Chapter 1771

“Step on the gas!” said Alex impatiently.

Sebastian ordered the driver and the driver picked up a lot more speed. An hour later, the car arrived at the hospital. The two men rushed towards the gynecology department. Yvonne, Ruth, Ryan, and Marcus were all sleeping on the bench outside of the delivery room. Sebastian and Alex woke the four people up and asked them to have some food first before going back to take a rest. It was enough for Alex to be there alone. After they saw that Alex has arrived, only then did the four people leave.

At that moment, there was still no activity in the delivery room. It

At that moment, there was still no activity in the delivery room. It was not until after Alex had stood outside of the delivery room for a full ten minutes that the midwife walked out from inside. Seeing that there was only one person outside and it was a different person from before, the midwife asked, "Where is her family?"

"I am her husband." Alex was straightforward.

The midwife immediately said, "Quick! The pregnant woman's body is too weak. Also, this is her first child and her pelvis is a little narrow, so the childbirth is truly difficult. It's already been a whole night and the pregnant woman's strength is almost exhausted."

woman's strength is almost exhausted."

Alex was speechless. The midwife sighed. "If, and I am only saying if something were to happen, do you want to save the adult or the child?"

"What are you talking about?" Alex asked.

"Mister Poole...save the adult or the child?" asked the midwife in a tremble.

"Save them both!"

The midwife was speechless.

"Save...save the child. I want my child to live. Save the child." A weak voice came from inside of the delivery room.

When he heard that voice, Alex instantly teared up. He rushed in the delivery ro

When he heard that voice, Alex instantly teared up. He rushed in with big strides, and went inside before the midwife had the chance to stop him. The woman on the delivery bed was already extremely exhausted. She was rather thin, and only her belly was bulging up like a mountain.

“Alex...save the child,” said Jane weakly.

“No!” Alex made a decision on the spot. “I don’t want the child anymore! Save my wife! My wife has to live!”

All the medical staff present were all speechless. A few of the female midwives cried. They felt if they could meet such a good husband in their lives, then it would be worth it even if they

...if they could meet such a good husband in their lives, then it would be worth it even if they were to die. Not to mention that this husband was so handsome and powerful. However, nobody expected that the pregnant woman on the delivery bed said breathlessly, "Save the child! Keep the child! I can't get pregnant anymore in the future. I want my child to live! I want my baby to live!"

That voice was so weak, and it got weaker as she spoke. Alex felt so heartbroken as if his heart had been stabbed when he heard her. He took a step forward and hugged Jane's head. "Jane, no! Let's not keep the child anymore! It's enough for me to have you in this life. I don't want the child anymore! Jane!"

have you in this life. I don't want the child anymore! Jane!"

"No...we must all live. All three of us have to live well. I can push. I certainly can have the strength. Hurry up and give me something to eat. Chocolate. Let me replenish my energy. I want to continue pushing."

Half the child's head was already exposed. The child certainly could not be saved if they were to have a C-section, so the only thing Jane could do at that moment was continue pushing. The nurse brought Hana chocolate, water, eggs and all sorts of high-energy foods. The woman on the delivery bed ate the food while recalling everything she had experienced with Alex, as well as Noah, who the food while recalling everything she had experienced with Alex, as well as Noah, who had died on the road. No, she has to live. The child has to live. Things will be better for her in the future. ①

Jane grabbed Alex's arm with both her hands and pierced her nails into the man's flesh. After she used up all of her strength, she gritted her teeth and let out a horrifying scream. "Ah!"

Immediately after that, a high-pitched and loud baby's cry instantly sounded. "Waa!!"

Chapter 1772

That baby's cry was incredibly loud and bright.

Alex was completely stunned. That was his child. After living for more than thirty years, he finally has his own child. His child was finally born safely! The child's mother had exhausted all her energy to give birth to his child! However, at that moment, Alex also did not get to take a look at the child. The newborn baby was covered in blood and was taken care of by the midwife. Alex did not even take a look to see if the child was a boy or a girl. He just looked at Jane, who had run out of strength. She must have been unable to even open her eyes anymore. She was completely exhausted.

open her eyes anymore. She was completely exhausted.

About five doctors were in front of her and they were giving her emergency treatment. There was a symphony of sounds from the clashing of hemostats and other medical tools. Everyone was wearing sterile suits, so no one chased Alex out of the room.

Alex did not even take a look at the child, he just looked at Jane. "Jane, you will be fine! Even if you have lost too much blood, I will give all of my blood to you! I'll give it all to you! Jane, you will live! You will certainly live!"

Jane was breathless. "I will live. I will certainly live. I have already given birth to my child. From now on, I will have my own family. I am also a child's now on, I will have my own family. I am also a child's mother. I must stay alive! I have to personally care for my child! I will raise my child. Where is my child? Is it a boy or girl?" She was so exhausted that she gradually fell asleep.

"Jane..." Alex hugged Jane in his arms. "You must be strong-willed."

"Doctor, save her, I want you to save her! I want to save her at all costs!" Alex roared.

None of the doctors dared to say anything. They quickly stopped Jane's bleeding and gave her medicine for blood clotting. When everyone thought that Jane would not be able to survive, her bleeding stopped. It truly was a miracle. After more survive, her breathing stopped. It truly was a miracle. After more than an hour, Jane woke up. Even opening her eyes was very strenuous for her, but Jane had survived. The few doctors were also in disbelief. However, in this world, anything unexpected could happen. Jane simply had just survived it.

With exhaustion, she had her eyes half-opened and she looked at Alex weakly, "Alex, you... I am fine. Take a look at the child. See if the child is a boy or a girl. Go and have a look, and quickly tell me."

"Oh, okay, sure!" Only then did Alex remember his child.

The child was already cleaned by the midwife. It was a boy. Alex carried their son and came in front of Jane. He mouthed the

The child was gently cleaned by the midwife. It was a boy. Alex carried their son and came in front of Jane. He gently put the child in front of Jane. A smile immediately appeared on Jane's face. "This is my son?"

"Your son! He is really your son! Your biological son!"

"I have a son from now on?"

"Yes, from now on, you have a son. From now on, you're the most commendable person in the Poole family!"

Jane smiled weakly. "Alex, I'm very tired. I want to carry our child, but I don't have the strength to do it."

She did not even have the strength to sit up, let alone carrying her child.

Jane smiled weakly. "Alex, I'm very tired. I want to carry our child, but I don't have the strength to do it."

She did not even have the strength to sit up, let alone carrying her child.

"It's fine. After you've fully recuperated, you will have plenty of time to carry your child. In the future, we can still have a second, third, tenth child in the future."

Jane smiled.

Chapter 1773

It was a very weak smile.

At that moment, the doctor walked over and looked at Alex. “Master Alex, your wife’s body is indeed too weak. She has to be hospitalized and be treated for a while. Otherwise, she will still develop complications later on.”

“Yes! She must be treated until she’s fully recovered!”

“Is my wife fine now?” asked Alex.

The doctor smiled. “It’s a miracle. Your wife has a very strong will to survive. The blood also clotted without us realizing it, and she was no longer bleeding out. She is fine. Her also clotted with blood as realizing it, and she was no longer bleeding out. She is fine. Her body is just weak now. Her life is not in danger.”

Only then did Alex feel relieved.

After everything was settled, when both the adult and the child were wheeled out of the delivery room, it was already midafternoon. As soon as the family of three came out of the delivery room, Alex saw a crowd of people were standing outside. Among his blood brothers, Sebastian was in South City, but Kevin and Martin would only be arriving the following day.

However, at that moment, a crowd of people stood outside of the delivery room. The little child, Aino, was standing in the forefront. She looked at Alex child, Aino, was standing in the forefront. She looked at Alex with a grin. "Uncle Poole, is the one you're carrying my younger brother or younger sister?"

Before Alex could reply, Ruth asked, "Well...Master Alex, is Ryan and my cousin a...baby boy or a girl?"

Ryan laughed. "Hahah. I am about to be an elder brother to my cousin. Ruth, you are about to be like a sister-in-law to your cousin-in-law."

"What?" On the side, Yvonne pushed Ryan hard. "You're one grade lower in the seniority status of the family! I am going to be an aunt to Mister Poole's child. Also, Marcus is going to be an uncle to the child. In the future, you and Ruth will have to an uncle to the... In the future, you and Ruth will have to address me and Marcus as uncle and aunt!”

Aino raised her head and looked at Ryan and Ruth. “That is right... Ryan and Ruth...”

Both Ruth and Ryan were speechless. At that moment, Gloria said, “Don’t all of you joke in front of the delivery room. Jane had just given birth and she had lost a lot of blood. Her body must be very weak now. Quickly let her go back to her ward to rest.”

As she was saying that, she came next to Alex, carrying a bag. “Alex, I have specially made this iron-rich drink for her. This is good for making new blood cells to replace the ones she had lost, s good for making new blood cells to replace the ones she had lost, so it's very good for someone who had just given birth. Let her have a cup every morning and night in the future.”

Aled was speechless. He looked behind them, and saw that even Nigel had come. There was a young girl who was covered in freckles and had a flat nose and face that was next to him. The young girl was a little ugly, but her smile had a kind of natural strength. She was just standing by Nigel's side, and together with Nigel, she was looking at Alex and the child in his arms with a blessed gaze.

At that moment, Alex, who had extraordinary power, only cared about politics, and had never spent time on how one should about politics, and had never spent time on how one should get by in the world, suddenly felt a strong sense of joy from the mundane human life. Alex was so touched that he even stuttered a little. "Thank you. Thank you all." He then smiled. "I finally understand why the hostility in Sebastian would dissolve so quickly within this year and a half."

Alex turned around and saw Zayn at the side. "Zayn, how is your wife?"

Zayn immediately smiled. "Alex, Hana originally also wanted to come, but she could not get out of the bed as she was put on bedrest, so she didn't come over. She really wanted to see your child."

She really wanted to see your child.”

“It’s fine. I will carry the child over to let her have a look in a few days,” said Alex.

At that moment, Gloria reminded everyone. “All of you, stop talking here. Quickly wheel Jane to her ward and let her drink a little of that iron-rich drink I have personally prepared for her.”

Only then did the group of people carefully wheel Jane into her ward. After everything had been settled, Jane drank the iron-rich drink prepared by Gloria and she looked much better. She also slowly regained some of her energy. When Jane was half-reclining in Gloria’s arms, Jane been settled, Jane drank the iron-rich drink prepared by Gloria and she looked much better. She also slowly regained some of her energy. When Jane was half-reclining in Gloria's arms, Jane first took a look at her newborn child, and then she looked around at everyone present. All the familiar ones were there. However, who was missing?

"Sabrina. Why didn't Sabrina come?" Jane asked very weakly.

Chapter 1774

Among all of her friends, the person Jane missed and wanted to see the most was Sabrina. In fact, after going through so many things, Jane was very clear that if it were not for the moral support that Jane had given her, Jane may not be able to hold on since a long time ago. Therefore, after she had given birth and survived after being a hair's breadth away from death again, the person Jane wanted to see the most was Sabrina. She wanted to tell Sabrina that just like Sabrina, she had also become a truly strong mother. However, everyone came but only Sabrina was nowhere to be seen.

However, even when she came but only Sabrina was nowhere to be seen.

Right at that moment, Alex's phone rang. He took his phone and glanced at it. It was actually Sabrina calling. Alex then immediately answered the call, turned on the speakerphone and put it by Jane's bed. Sabrina's anxious voice immediately came from the other end of the call. "Mister Poole! What exactly is the situation now? Where is Jane? Has she given birth? Is her life in danger? I had already made twelve calls to you. You should have called me back at least once!"

Jane smiled weakly again. "Sabrina, it's me..."

Sabrina did not say anything.

Sabrina, it's me.

Sabrina did not say anything.

“I am Jane...”

Sabrina sounded excited. “Jane. Are you alright, Jane?”

Jane smiled. “I was not very well at first, but I drank the iron-rich drink that your mother had prepared for me. I feel the color on my face is looking better.

Sabrina, I have given birth to a chubby son with my own strength.”

“Congratulations, Jane!”

Sabrina cried as she was excited.

The child was truly Jane's family in her life.

Sure enough, Jane said, “I...I have a family from now on!”

Sure enough, Jane said, "I...I have a family from now on!"

Sabrina could not help but nod. "Mm-hmm. Jane, from now on, you're a person who has someone to rely on. If Mister Alex were to make your life difficult again in the future, then you can just let your son deal with him!"

Jane was so amused by what Sabrina said that she smiled brightly. "Hmph! I have someone to rely on now! If Alex were to bully me and make my life difficult again, not only will I let my son deal with him, all of the family properties and power will be mine and I will let me leave the marriage without any possessions! I will let myself have no money to even sleep in a hotel!"

possessions: I let myself have no money to even sleep in a hotel!"

After saying that, Jane took a sidelong glance at Alex. Alex, who was still holding his newborn baby in his arms, had a smile on his face. In the past few months, he had already transferred all of fortune to Jane.
He truly did not have a single penny on him anymore, so much so that he even asked Jane for a few a hundred dollars when he went out every day, which was enough to smoke a pack of cigarettes and buy some water at best. Sometimes when his subordinates jokingly asked Alex to treat them, Alex unexpectedly could not take out any money to do so. His subordinates have do so. His subordinates have clearly noticed that their Master Alex had become very stingy.

Among the subordinates, the one who was most familiar with Jane was Garrett. He once brought his wife to visit Jane, and he joked with Jane, “Madam, do you have a feeling of being the queen now? You have no idea how stingy Master Alex had become but after he had given you the power to be in charge of money.

“In the past, he often used his personal money to treat us to a meal and so on every other day. Now, Master Alex doesn’t even go to a restaurant himself, let alone treat us.”

Jane was stunned on the spot. She did not expect that Alex really was penniless. That day

Jane was stunned on the spot. She did not expect that Alex really was penniless. That day when Alex came home, Jane handed a card to Alex. "Alex, take this. There is ten million dollars in it."

Alex raised his eyebrows. "What? I gave you a million dollars and drove you out in the past, but now, the tables have turned, and you want to give me ten million dollars and then kick me out?"

Jane was both annoyed and amused. "Who is joking with you? You can't not have a single penny on you. How can you go out without money? You are a big man, and you should always be carrying some money when you go out, right?"

you go out, right?

What Jane did not expect was that Alex would actually say, “Dear, guess how do I get by without money? I used to smoke three packs of cigarettes a day, but now smoke a pack for three days. Not only am I saving on the money spent on cigarettes, but I don’t even need money for my food now. I eat at the cafeteria at work and they take care of my meals, so I don’t have to pay for that. I can give all of my salary to you every month.”

Jane was speechless. At that moment, as Jane was chatting with Sabrina, she recalled all that when she saw her man holding their newborn baby. Jane could not help but feel emotional.

Chapter 1775

She felt both emotional and touched. From then onwards, she would be someone who also has a family and loved one, who was her son!

“Jane, you’ve become strong now. I’m truly happy for you,” said Sabrina from the bottom of her heart. She had been very worried about Jane, but then, she became slightly more relieved.

“Sabrina, you sounded a bit tired from the tone of your voice. What’s the matter with you? Are you sick?” If Sabrina was not sick, then she certainly would be there for Jane for such an important event such as Jane giving birth. At that moment, Jane, who had just gotten a little better, was worried about Jane, who had gotten a little better, was worried about Sabrina in return.

Sabrina did not answer Jane. Her face suddenly turned red. When she woke up early in the morning, she actually had a little spotting. She gave herself a fright. She turned around and saw that Sebastian was not by her side. He had been leaving the house early and coming home late for the past few days.

Sabrina looked at that spot of red on the bed and could not help but blame herself. She had been too willful the night before. She was already in her last trimester in her pregnancy, but she still pestered Sebastian to give her more. Sebastian was already extremely careful and was holding himself back. However, h

...still accidentally hurt her. She extremely careful and was holding himself back. However, he still accidentally hurt her. She truly had brought it on herself.

Early in the morning, although Sabrina was very afraid, she did not dare to tell Sebastian. This was because Sebastian indeed was too busy as he had to manage the Ford Group, he also had to help manage her brother's company, the Smith Group, and on top of that, he still had to take care of Alex's matters. Therefore, Sabrina called the doctor herself and let the doctor come to her house. She also did not dare to move and did not dare to get out of the bed.

Fortunately, after the doctor came, he consoled her. "Madam,

Fortunately, after the doctor came, he consoled her. "Madam, sometimes when your body is dry, the internal connective tissues may also be bruised by a slight touch. This doesn't affect the baby. If you are worried, then just rest in bed for two weeks."

After hearing the doctor explain it like that, Sabrina blushed even harder. The doctor did not say it explicitly, but Sabrina could understand it. What he meant was that she had not been intimate with her husband, so a slight occasional touch would bruise her. This is the blood that bled from the spot it had bruised. Although it does not affect the baby, Sabrina did not dare to be too careless. She still obediently followed the doctor's instructions and laid in bed. That too careless. She still obediently followed the doctor's instructions and laid in bed. That was why she clearly knew that Jane was giving birth that morning, but Sabrina did not go to visit her good friend. Instead, it was her good friend, who had just given birth, who was concerned for her. Sabrina was overwhelmed with guilt.

Although they could not see each other through the phone, Sabrina was blushing so hard at that moment and she smiled shyly. "It's not a big deal, Jane. It's just that my baby was moving a lot when I got up this morning, so the doctor asked me to rest in bed. That was why I... didn't get to go and visit you. When my pregnancy is more stable, I will go over to look at you," said Sabrina apologetically.

"Sabrina, you certainly must take good care of yourself. You have sent Aino as your representative to come see me, and I am very thankful for that," said Jane. She raised her hand to touch Aino's head.

Aino felt even more happy when heard that she could be her mother's representative. "Aunt Jane, I am going to be a grown up soon. I can take care of you, and I also can take care of my Aunt Hana. Aunt Jane, I can run from your ward to Aunt Hana's ward, and then come back again. If you don't believe me, watch me."

As she said that, Aino turned around and ran outside. She ran very quickly, and before the people in the ward had a chance to react in time, Aino had already ran far away. However, as soon as she turned a corner out of Jane's ward, she bumped into someone. That person held Aino in her arms in one fell swoop and looked straight at Aino.

Chapter 1776

“Who are you? Why are you holding me? Let me go!” Aino looked at the young man who was holding her very alarmingly.

“Little child, do you know you will fall if you run so fast? In the future, you must be careful not to run so quickly. It’s all marble floor here, it’s very painful if you fall,” the young man immediately said.

Aino immediately smiled. “Thank you, Sir.”

“Where are your parents? You’re such a young child. How can your parents not follow you around?” asked the man.

“Hmph!” Aino said very proudly. “My dad is very busy your parents to follow you around?" asked the man.

"Hmph!" Aino said very proudly, "My dad is very busy, incredibly busy. I am already a big child, and I don't need my father to take care of me. I can take care of others now. I can take care of my mother, and I also can take care of my Aunt Jane."

Upon saying that, Aino ran off. At that moment, Kingston and Zayn came running over. They happened to arrive in front of that young man, and that young man scolded Kingston and Zayn.

"Do you call yourself the child's guardians? How can you let the child run around? This is still fine because this is the hospital. If this was the main road, then it fine because the hospital. If this was the main road, then it would be bad.”

Kingston and Zayn nodded gratefully. “Yes, yes, you are right.”

Aino, on the other hand, returned to explain to the young man. “Don’t worry, Sir. When I am on the main road, I will not run around. I know that there are many cars on the road, so I will avoid the cars. Thank you, Sir.”

Aino ran off again after she said that. She was very happy that day. The reason she was happy was because Aunt Jane had given birth to a baby. She wanted to rush to tell her Aunt Hana this good news. Aino was running in front while Kingston and Zayn were following behind her.

front while Kingston and Zayn were following behind her. However, what they did not know was that at that moment, at a far away place, a pair of high-powered binoculars was staring at Aino's back. When Aino ran off until she was out of sight, the person behind the high-powered binoculars took out the phone and made a call.

"Hello, the little child doesn't have her parents following behind her?"

"No, master."

The person on the other end of the call cursed fiercely. "D*mn it! Then where is her father?"

The person on this end of the call was speechless.

"I'm asking you a question!"

The person on the other end of the call was speechless.

"I'm asking you a question!
Where is her father?"

"I heard that he had been very busy recently. He is so busy that he has been leaving the house early in the morning and returning home late at night."

"Where is her mother?"

"I didn't see her mother..."

"D*mn it!" said the man again.

The person on the end of the call was quiet.

"It's like this all the time.

Whenever the mother and daughter need him, he is never by their side. I truly don't know what Sabrina loves about him! Go, investigate for me. Why didn't what Sabrina knows about him! Go, investigate for me. Why didn't Sabrina show up when her best friend had just given birth here. Go investigate!"

"Yes, Master!"

The conversation between the two people ended. Nobody knew that there was a high-powered binocular staring at Aino from a very far away place.

At that moment, Aino had already arrived at Hana's ward. "Aunt Hana, do you know? Aunt Jane gave birth to a younger brother for me." Aino tiptoed in front of Hana's bed. She raised her hand to wipe the corners of Hana's mouth while holding a little towel.

Hana smiled gently. "You have a little towel.

Hana smiled gently. "You have a n additional younger brother to play with you. Are you happy, Aino?"

Aino nodded. "Mm-hmm."

After that, she shook her head again. "Also, no. I would like it better if it was a younger sister. Aunt Hana, you didn't know this, but I had given Aunt Jane a monstrous doll in the past.

Actually, that doll is a girl. I had wanted a younger sister since back then. Who knew a younger brother arrived instead?

However, it's also very good to have a younger brother!"

Chapter 1777

Hana stroked Aino's little nose. "What is bad about a younger brother? After your brother has grown up, not only could he be your little follower, but he also can be a bodyguard to you, the young lady!"

"Yes! Hehe, if my mom and you gave birth to a boy, then I will have many bodyguards in the future. When I grow up in the future, I will be the queen. Haha."

Her Aunt Hana immediately smiled. "Mm-hmm. Aino is the most sensible and independent queen who doesn't make her mother worry."

Aino was even happier after she mother worry

Aino was even happier after she was praised by her aunt. However, she was also truly a strong little lady who was independent, sensible, and did not let her mother worry. Aino knew that her mother was on bedrest. Aino also knew her father was busy lately. Aino knew that her Uncle Poole was also very busy. She thought to herself that she would also be very busy in the future. This was because she had to go to kindergarten, return home to visit her mother, and she also needed to come to the hospital to visit her Aunt Jane and Aunt Hana, as well as her newborn younger brother. However, it was still already because at least she has Uncle Kingston and Uncle Zavn keeping her was still already because at least she has Uncle Kingston and Uncle Zayn keeping her accompanied. This way, she was not too lonely.

“Uncle Zayn, in the future, let’s come to the hospital together,” said Aino, holding her Uncle Zayn’s hand.

However, just as she said that, Zayn’s phone rang. Zayn immediately answered it. “Hello, Sebastian?”

It was Sebastian’s voice on the other end of the call. “Zayn, Alex won’t be able to make himself available these couple of days while Kelvin and Martin can’t arrive in time, so you have to work more these couple of days. The Ford Group had just gotten a very big business in the work more than a couple of days. The Ford Group had just gotten a very big business in the southeast region. This business has to be done together with the Smith Group.”

Zayn was surprised. “Really, Sebastian?”

Whenever the Ford Group had any good projects to do, Sebastian would also have the Smith Group in mind. Zayn was truly very grateful for Sebastian.

On the other end of the call, Sebastian said in a very calm tone, “Zayn, I would not be able to take care of you these two days. If Hana’s health can...”

He stopped his words and did not speak any further. After all, Zayn had just been married, and his wife was only pregnant with

He stopped in words and did not speak any further. After all, Zayn had just been married, and his wife was only pregnant with their child at the age of forty and was on bedrest at the hospital. Therefore, Sebastian stopped mid-sentence. He wanted to let Zayn make his own decision.

However, he heard Hana coughed. "Zayn, go ahead. You should be personally handling the matters of the Smith Group. You can't keep troubling Mister Ford. I am fine. I can call for the nurse and I can also get a caregiver. I certainly would be fine."

To not let Zayn be worried, Hana looked at Aino again. She wanted to Aino's help to console Zayn. "Besides, don't I have this little child here taking care of me?"

Aino can even be treated as an

Besides, don't have this little child here taking care of me? Aino can even be treated as an adult."

Aino immediately nodded her head. "I certainly can take good care of my aunt."

Zayn looked at Aino in relief. "My Aino is the best!"

As Aino's uncle, he had always been thinking of encouraging his niece, giving her confidence and a positive mindset to be ambitious. However, Zayn did not truly want Aino to do anything. On the contrary, he would even care for Aino at every turn.

Zayn turned around. "Assistant Yates, her father and I will be very busy soon. We'll have to Yates, her father, and I will be very busy soon. We'll have to trouble you to take care of Aino. Make sure to send her home safely later."

Kingston nodded. "Don't worry, Master Zayn. This is my duty. I certainly will take good care of the little princess."

Only then did Zayn feel assured and left. As soon as he left, Aino took the initiative to tell Hana. "Aunt Hana, I will now go and buy dinner for you. I know you can't eat spicy and stimulating food. You have to eat mild and highly nutritious food, right?"

Hana immediately stopped her. "No need, Aino. I can directly ask the caregiver to send it over..."

Before she finished her words, Aino had already ran out

You have to eat mild and highly nutritious food, right?”

Hana immediately stopped her. “No need, Aino. I can directly ask the caregiver to send it over...”

Before she finished her words, Aino had already ran out.

However, as soon as Aino left the room, she bumped into the arms of a person again.

“Sir, is it you again?” asked Aino in surprise.

Chapter 1778

Just when the young man, who had bumped by Aino once just now, was about to exchange a few pleasantries with Aino, he raised his head and saw Kingston. Kingston was usually friendly with Aino, and sometimes when the two of them argued, he would act like a child. However, Kingston's vigilance was very high. He looked at the man in front of him with a calm and composed manner, and nodded slightly at him with a smile. That man also did not say anything else. Instead, he smiled awkwardly at Kingston, then turned around and left.

Aino then held Kingston's hand and went to get dinner for Hana and left.

Aino then held Kingston's hand and went to get dinner for Hana together. They watched Hana finish her dinner before going back to Jane's ward. It was a little livelier than Hana's end, but nobody dared to speak loudly because they were afraid to disturb the little baby.

Half an hour later, other than Alex, everyone else in the ward had left. Ryan drove away with Ruth, and Marcus also drove Yvonne and Gloria home.

Kingston, on the other hand, was mainly responsible for sending Aino home. After Kingston sent Aino home, he still had to pick up Sebastian. This was because Kingston could not be at ease to let someone else pick up and drop off his still had to pick up Sebastian. This was because Kingston could not be at ease to let someone else pick up and drop off his master. Master Sebastian had been too busy recently. As his assistant, Kingston also had to be a little busier. After he sent the little princess home, Kingston left without staying for long.

As soon as he left the door, Aino called out again, "Uncle Kingston!"

Kingston turned his head around and looked at Aino. "What's the matter, little princess?"

"Come and pick me up earlier tomorrow. I have three people to take care of now. My mother, my Aunt Hana, as well as Aunt Jane," said Aino very proudly.

Kingston smiled. "Don't worry!

Aunt Hana, as as Aunt Jane," said Aino very proudly.

Kingston smiled. "Don't worry! See you, little princess."

"See you, Uncle Kingston."

After she came home, Aino went running towards her mother's room. At that moment, Sabrina had just finished dinner. She originally wanted to get out of the bed to walk around as she felt it was alright. The baby's movement in her belly was very normal for the whole day, and she had been monitoring the baby's heartbeat on a designated time. However, once she thought of the fact that it was her own doing the night before that had caused everything, she felt that she had better not give her husband any more trouble in the

she had better give her husband any more trouble in the next few days. Therefore, she might as well just lay back in bed again after dinner. Once she laid down, Aino came in. The little child came to her mother's side as soon as she came home. She tiptoed and raised her hand to touch her mother's forehead. After touching it for a while, she said seriously, "Mm-hmm. No fever."

Sabrina wanted to laugh. "Mm-hmm. I am feeling much better."

"Mom, you have to be more obedient in the future. You can't move too much and simply eat anything. You also shouldn't eat anything cold. Do you know that?"

Sabrina nodded. "I know " that?"

Sabrina nodded. "I know."

"Mom, can you sleep alone?" asked Aino.

"What do you mean?" Sabrina asked.

"Do you need me to coax you to sleep? If you need it, I can go and take my story book, and I can read you a bedtime story. You can fall asleep quicker like that."

Sabrina was speechless. She wanted to tell Aino very badly that Aino was just a little grown up who still did not know that many words. It would not be too late if you only read me a story when you knew more words.

However, Sabrina did not say that. She just smiled and said, "I would really love to, but I like that. She just smiled and said, "I would really love to, but I like reading stories even more. Could you take your fairytale book over to let me read? After that, you can accompany me by my side, do you agree?"

"Of course!" In fact, Aino really wanted her mother to keep her accompanied very badly. She wanted her mother to read her a story even more. After the little girl brushed her teeth and washed her face, she took her fairytale book and nestled with her mother under the covers. She then listened to her mother as she read her a story. Half an hour later, the little girl fell asleep. She just slept on her parent's bed. Sebastian only carried Aino back to her nursery when he returned home at eleven at night.

has become more sensible. She actually knew to take the

Chapter 1779

Sabrina rested her head on Sebastian's shoulder. "That's true. Aino had also been caring about me. When we were in Ciarrai county back then, most of the time when she got into fights with others was to protect me. When I was busy with work in Ciarrai county, she actually would run home herself. She was particularly good at remembering routes. It truly was not easy for her. She was only six years old."

Sebastian sighed. "After things have quieted down and after you've given birth, let's go abroad and take a break as a family of four. After the children have grown a little family of four. After the children have grown a little older and your figure has recovered, we'll have a wedding," said Sebastian. ❀

Sabrina pouted. "Why must we wait until I get my figure back? Why can't we have the wedding after I've given birth and rested for a month?"

Sebastian did not mind at all. No matter how out of shape she was, he was willing to hold her hand and seriously have a wedding with her. However...

"Are you sure you don't want to wear a wedding dress to have a wedding with me? Even slightly more ordinary evening dresses don't have size as big as you are now, so are you sure?"

dresses don't have size as big as you are now, so are you sure?"

Sabrina was speechless. Ha! How could she have forgotten about that? Of course, she had to wear a wedding dress. Not only did she want to wear a wedding dress, but she even wanted to wear a very beautiful one. Therefore, it would be best to have the wedding after she had gotten her figure back.

Sabrina had no choice. “

Alright! Let's do it after a year and a half. I want to breastfeed my child, so let's wait for a year and a half.”

“I'll do as you say! Hurry up and sleep!” Sebastian helped tuck his wife into the covers. He only slept after he waited

He only slept after he waited for her to fall asleep. He had no time during the day, so he wanted to look at her more during the night. Actually, her figure was not big at all. On the contrary, she was thin to the point that the fine capillaries could be clearly seen on the bridge of her nose. As she was pregnant, her face was also covered in faintly visible freckles. Those freckles seemed so cute. Sebastian suddenly lowered his head to kiss her on her forehead.

“You’re truly beautiful. You’re beautiful no matter what you look like. You’re so beautiful even if you’re pregnant, have freckles, and even the way you look when you drooled a little freckles, and even the way you look when you drooled a little after you've fallen asleep are also very beautiful. No wonder he will say those words to me."

Of course, the person Sebastian mentioned was Holden.

Sebastian had not received Holden's harassment calls for almost a month, but he received one again that day. Sebastian deliberately had someone check on the source of the phone signal, and he found that it was still from the small island in the southeast. There was about five thousand kilometers of distance between that island and South City. On the sea, the island could only be seen with a telescope.

"How have you been lately? If “How have you been lately? If you need anything I can ship it to you,” said Sebastian.

“What do I need?” Holden sneered. “Are you asking me kindly to send me supplies, or are you trying to use sending supplies as a disguise to conquer my Holden Island like how you conquered Star Island?”

Sebastian was speechless.

“Why? You have nothing to say?” asked Holden.

Sebastian’s tone was still very calm. “If you don’t need it, then I won’t ship it to you. When you need it one day, no matter what supplies and in any aspect, as long as you have matter what supplies and in any aspect, as long as you have a need for it, give me a call. I will ship it over to you.”

“Haha!” Holden laughed arrogantly, and there was a sense of misery in his arrogance. “What do I want? I want mom to come back to life, can you do that? I want her to keep you at Star Island, then take me by her side. Even if it’s living in exile and even if it’s death, I am also willing to do it. Can you make everything start over? Can you let us all be born again once more?”

“Holden! Don’t be ridiculous!” Sebastian stopped him. There was a pause before he said again, “Half of the Ford Group’s properties are yours as again, "Half of the Ford Group's properties are yours as long as you want it." ❁

"I don't want it! I don't need it! I am not short on money! Sebastian, I'm just not as rich as you, but I am not short on money!" Holden shouted furiously.

Sebastian was speechless.

After a long while, the person on the other end suddenly said in a calm tone. "I only want two things. Can you give them to me?"

Sebastian was stunned in his heart. "What?"

"Sabrina and Aino. Can you give them to me?" asked Holden.

Chapter 1780

Sebastian was speechless. He had already treated Holden nicely. However, at that moment, Sebastian could not hold it in anymore and said dreadfully coldly, "Holden, your island has a thirty kilometers distance measuring from east to west and fifty kilometers measuring from north to south. It's half of Star Island in size. Do you think I can take it down in one hour or half an hour?"

Holden only sneered. "Even half an hour is too much! If you want to take me down, fifteen minutes is enough for you, isn't it? Or, if you want to kill m minutes is enough for you, isn't it? Or, if you want to kill me, I may die without me even knowing it. Didn't you treat your other brothers like this? A person like you is simply cold-blooded and is a murderous maniac! Are you even worthy enough for me to talk to you about humanity?"

Sebastian was not angry at all, and his tone was incomparably calm. "Mm-hmm. It's good that you know."

After saying that, Sebastian took the lead to hang up the call. After he ended the call, he used his landline and continuously called for a few of his most trusted subordinates, and they arrived in five minutes.

and they arrived in five minutes.

“Now, immediately flatten that island!” Sebastian’s tone was still just as calm.

His few most trusted subordinates were speechless. One of them could not help but to remind Sebastian. “Master Sebastian, just a month ago, you even...planned to send a ship full of supplies over.”

“I have changed my mind now! Execute this matter today. I’m scared that any delays will bring about changes!”

The few most trusted subordinates asked in unison, “Change?”

What changes could there be?

subordinates asked in unison, “Change?”

What changes could there be? They had not heard of any movements on that island.

“I’m afraid that I will change,” said Sebastian. The few of the most trusted subordinates were left speechless again.

“Since he had been cut off as soon as he was born, then let’s just treat it as if he did not exist in this world. When you’ve flattened the island, remember to keep his body whole and bring it back. I will bury him with my mother,” Sebastian said quietly.

After saying that, Sebastian said to himself, “Didn’t you say that mother has always loved m

After saying that, Sebastian said to himself, "Didn't you say that mother has always loved me alone? I will let you go down today. From now on, you will be able to properly accompany her by her side. Perhaps, this is the right thing for me to do."

As soon as he said that, Sebastian said again, "Go, go now, immediately!"

The few of his most trusted subordinates knew that as long as Master Sebastian had made a decision, he must have already thoroughly thought it through. Therefore, all of them said in unison, "Yes, Master Sebastian!" After that, they turned around and left.

Sebastian turned around.
However, at that moment when he turned around, he saw his mother's photo on his desk.
His mother's amiable smile, her whole life that had suffered all sorts of hardships, as well as his mother's struggle and heartbreak for the sake of saving both the brothers back flooded Sebastian's mind.

Sebastian instantly frowned.

“Don’t go,” said Sebastian.

His subordinates were all speechless.

Sebastian sighed. “Surround the island, then wait silently to see what happens. If there are no movements on the island, then you shouldn’t have any movements. It’s not too late for you to take action whenever there are any movements on that island.”

His most trusted subordinates immediately answered in unison, “Yes, Master Sebastian!”

Sebastian looked at his mother's photo for a very long time. There was no woman who had suffered more than his mother. If her soul in heaven learned that both the twin brothers were fighting each other to death, then how could she accept that?

Sebastian suppressed all this annoyance in his heart by keeping himself occupied with his busy work. He dealt with his company's affairs, and then inspected the matters within the territories that Alex was managing, and then he made a trip to the hospital. After all, his blood brother, Alex, just had a child, which was something worth celebrating, so Sebastian still has to

Chapter 1781

Alex was all alone outside of the ward. Sebastian did not stay too long before returning home, and when he arrived home, it was already late at night. Because the woman's body was heavy, she was getting increasingly more prone to sleepiness. The child was also already asleep. At that moment, when Sebastian saw his woman and his little adult-like child, he only had one thought on his mind, which was if anyone dared to snatch the three of them away from him, he would let that person die! Even if it was his own brother. It was not his first time ending his own brothers' life! The man slowly laid beside time ending his own brothers' life! The man slowly laid beside the woman and gently put an arm on the woman's bulging belly. He only fell asleep after a long time.

The following day, Sebastian had already left the house before Sabrina woke up.

Sabrina looked much better that day and it was mainly because she was well-rested. She guessed that she should already be fine, so she wanted to go visit Jane at the hospital, and also visit her sister-in-law again, who was on bed rest to prevent a miscarriage.

However, before she could leave the house, her doctor arrived.

“Madam, although your health arrived.

“Madam, although your health is fine, it is still not recommended for you to run about. It’s better for you to stay home for a couple more days,” advised the doctor.

Sabrina sighed. “Fine...”

“Mom, just rest well at home. I will visit Aunt Jane and Aunt Hana in your place,” said Aino to her mother while having her breakfast.

“Going to kindergarten should be a little child’s priority,” said Sabrina.

“I know that.” Aino nodded. “I will go after school. I helped Aunt Hana buy dinner yesterday, and I bought it all by Sabrina nodded. "Mm-hmm. Alright. I will wait for you at home."

When it was around six in the evening, Sabrina's phone rang. She picked it up and saw that Jane was video calling her.

Sabrina immediately answered it. "Jane, Jane. Are you...are you alright? I...I don't know how you are doing, and I didn't dare to call you. How are you now? Is the baby alright? Aino said she wanted to take a photo for me t

"Mom, it's me." Aino's face immediately appeared on the phone. Aino grinned. "Mom, it's me who is video calling you. Quickly have a look. This is Aunt Jane."

Sabrina immediately saw the frail Jane laying on the hospital bed. Sabrina immediately teared up. "Jane, you...why are you so frail? I heard from my mom on the phone that you had a hemorrhage?"

"I'm fine, Sabrina. I am fine now. I've already survived it. I'm doing very well now. My child is also doing very well. I am just worried about you. You m just worried about you. You must properly take care of your baby, do you understand?"

Jane comforted Sabrina.

Sabrina nodded. "Mm-hmm. I understand, Jane. I will go see you in a couple of days."

"Alright."

Aino's face was seen on the phone again. "Mom, quickly have a look. This is my new younger brother that Aunt Jane had given me."

A little baby, who had his eyes closed, immediately appeared in the frame. The way the little baby was clutching his fist and sleeping with his closed was so adorable it made Sabrina beamed.

“Oh my. This little man already has the appearance of a handsome man when he is still so small. Haha. I...I really want to hug him. I want to hug him.”

What would be the best healing medicine in this world?

Without a doubt, it must be children, especially newborn babies. His innocent look was truly extremely cute.

“Just wait till I get well. I can get out of bed in a few more days. I’ll immediately come and see the child as soon as I’m well,” Sabrina said excitedly.

Aino, however, said as if she was very knowledgeable, “

The little girl then ran out after saying that. Once she got out of the room, she was instantly him again?”

Chapter 1782

That was the third time Aino had met that young man. However, that young man did not bump into Aino at that time, but rather, he was holding a packet of food and was walking hurriedly across the hallway. When that man reached the end of the hallway, he saw that Aino was looking at him, so he turned around and smiled at Aino before he hurriedly walked away. Aino smiled at that young man with a very sweet look.

“What’s the matter, Aino?” asked Kingston, who was next to Aino.

“It’s nothing, Uncle Kingston. I just felt that my younger brother is too interesting. His little hands are chubby and his arms are so short. Hahaha.” Aino smiled.

Kingston also smiled. That was his first time seeing a little baby up close. The baby was really very cute, and it made Kingston feel like he wanted a child. However,...with whom was he going to have the child? Kingston saw that Master Zayn was going to be a father soon, but he was still a lonely man. That would not do! Most of the people who were hospitalized there had to stay for more than a week, so two of them would meet a few familiar faces, whom they had gotten acquainted with in those few days, in the large gynecology ward. When they came face to face with each other, they would smile at each other as a form of greeting. The way the little girl buzzed while she smiled and ran along the gynecology hallway brought a sense of joy to the silent gynecology ward.

faraway corner, a man behind the high-powered binoculars was making a call. The content of that call was related to Aino.

“Has it always been an assistant who has been accompanying Aino in the past four days?”

“Yes, Master.”

“What a great opportunity this is! What are you waiting for?”

The tone of the person on the other end of the call sounded like a command.

“Master, that...that Assistant Yates, he seemed like he was carelessly following behind the little princess, but he had been keeping a very close eye on him. I did not have the slightest

The person on the other end of the call was speechless. There was a pause before he asked again, "Sabrina still hasn't appeared?"

"She still hasn't come."

The person on the other let out a heavy sigh. "What exactly happened to her? Is she sick? That d*mned Sebastian Ford! I just knew it. He has always been so uncaring for her and the daughter!"

The person was speechless.

The man on the other end said,
“Continue to wait! When there is no chance, just wait for it!”

“Yes, Master!”

After he hung up the call, the man who was sitting behind the high-power binoculars drank his drink in a very disheveled manner. He mumbled to himself. “Sabrina, are you doing well now? You’re already so far along in your pregnancy, but that d*mned man still isn’t accompanying you by your side! His brother, Alex, is better than him! There is also Zayn. Zayn is also better than Sebastian. Sabrina, what exactly do you see in Sebastian that you’re so hell-bent on being with him?”

The man chugged a large gulp of alcohol. Perhaps because he was drunk, the man suddenly laughed.

Chapter 1783

A hallucination appeared before his eyes. "Aino, Aino, come over. Let me give you a hug. I will buy many toys for you. I'll give you all the best toys in the world. You call me... call me dad, alright?"

At that moment, it was only natural that Aino, who was laying by Hana's bed, could not hear that calling. However, the little girl shuddered for some reason.

"What's the matter, Aino?" asked Hana.

"It's nothing. Maybe the weather is cold, so I'm a little cold," said Aino with a smile.

"My child, you must wear more

"My child, you must wear more layers. Don't catch a cold. If you catch a cold, you'll have to get an injection, and that is very painful." Hana patted Aino on her head.

Aino nodded. "I know, Aunt Hana. I obey your words the most."

Aino and Hana had naturally gotten very close. Aino felt that Hana was certainly and had to her uncle's wife since the first time she laid eyes on Hana. At that time, Aino thought that if Hana was not her uncle's wife, then she absolutely would not acknowledge another person as her uncle's wife. Hana was also close to Aino. Getting along with Aino in the past few days with Aino in the past few days had made Hana gradually forget about her late daughter. After all, Hana had not really gotten along with Tessa before. Her only interaction with Tessa was mostly either Tessa asking her for money or Tessa arguing with her. Tessa's heart still remained with Hector, after all, she had never been close to her biological mother.

When Hana thought about it then, she felt relieved. Rather than thinking about her late daughter, who had never loved her, it would make her even happier to look at this six-year-old little child in front of her. One can only be in good health if one was happy, and Hana can only be able to keep her baby if

Her Aunt had even told her, "Hana, after you give birth to your child, I will have things to do. I can take care of your child for you, and you can go to work. No matter when, one must always rely on oneself."

Hana nodded. "Mm-hmm. Definitely."

Hana felt that her life before she was forty was unbearable. Her mother passed away, her father abandoned her, and her stepmother abused her. She finally got together with a man after many difficulties, but the

Even her biological daughter exploited and harmed her. Although her life before she was forty was truly beyond despair, everything had already turned for the better. All the despair and bad luck were in the past, the hard times for her had already ended and the good times had begun. After giving birth to the child in her belly, she planned to give birth to another child when she turned forty-three years old. After that, she would live her life well with Zayn and the two children, and get more in touch

...with Zayn and the two children, and get more in touch with Zayn's relatives. Life in the future would be more and more vibrant and exciting.

"Aunt Hana, let me show you." Aino turned around and went out of the ward to take Kingston's phone before returning. She then showed Hana a picture of a little baby on the phone.

"Look, Aunt Hana, how good looking is my younger brother? This is the younger brother that Aunt Jane had given me."

"That's right. He is particularly good looking." Hana was very envious. She subconsciously touched her lower abdomen. In another eight months, her child would also be born too.

“Aino, you are my lucky star in this life, do you know that? If it weren’t for the first time you dragged your uncle to the corner of the wall to speak to me, I never could have escaped those shackles in this life. I never could have escaped from the abyss of misery in this life, let alone have a child in my belly. I have to treat you to a big meal after I am discharged from the hospital.”

“Sure, Aunt Hana,” said Aino with a smile.

At that very moment, the man behind the high-powered binoculars was crouching in a shady corner at a faraway place, and he muttered to himself, "Such a lively, cute, and sensible child should be mine! Mine!"

Chapter 1784

The man had a sorrowful and depressed expression. He took another gulp of the alcohol. “How good I will be to you. I’ll play with you and I let you ride on my back like a horse. I have more time than that stinky bum. I don’t want anything! I don’t care about anything! I only want a family! Family! What’s wrong with that? Aino, you like me, right? I will be good to you. I will be good to your mother. Your mother is the bravest, most independent, strongest, and kindest woman in this world. That stinky bum doesn’t deserve to have your mother! He isn’t worthy of it! Where's your mother? Why is it that two of her good friends were hospitalized in a gynecology ward, but she still hasn't appeared? Aino, tell me, that stinky bum bullied her, didn't he? No, he will not bully her, but what he does best is ignore her. He has been busy with his career, his empire, and his brothers. How would he still have your mother in his eyes? Where is your mother? Is she still fine?"

Nobody could hear these words said by the man behind the high-powered binoculars, who was hidden in a corner. Like a drunkard, he drank himself till he was drunk as a skunk. After that, he sat on the floor and fell asleep. The next day was still a that, he sat on the floor and fell asleep. The next day was still a day when he did not get to see Sabrina after he woke up. The man was going crazy from anxiety. However, that anxious feeling continued for another three more days. Then, he finally saw Sabrina's figure through the high-power binoculars.

Sabrina finally came to the hospital on the fifth day after Jane had given birth. She had been properly staying in bed at home for five days until the doctor told her, "Don't worry, Madam. There are absolutely no problems at all. Your baby is growing very well. However, if you were to go out, you absolutely shouldn't be you were to go out, you absolutely shouldn't be walking by yourself. You should take a car to prevent you from getting fatigued.”

“Haha, don't worry!” Sabrina instantly laughed. She thought that although Sebastian was very busy those days and would not be by her side, Kingston certainly would be following her. Even if she had to walk just a little, Kingston would certainly support her by her side, so it certainly would be fine.

Early in the morning, Sabrina selected maternity clothing that fitted her well, so she did not look that bulky and was a little fashionable. She even put on some light makeup.

little fashionable. She even put on some light makeup. Although she still had unconcealable freckles on her face, her complexion looked much better. She wore a pair of flats and left her house feeling very satisfied with herself.

She sat in Kingston's car and the extremely excited little child next to her. The little child did not go to school today. The teachers in her kindergarten went for training collectively, so all the children got a day off. The little child, Aino, had been looking forward to that day. During that period, she did not want to go to kindergarten anymore. She just wanted to come to the hospital to hug her younger brother every day.

“Haha. Mom, you certainly don't know which ward Aunt Jane is saying in. I know it, so I will take you there. I'm telling you, Mom, even Uncle Kingston doesn't know it as well as I do.”

Sabrina looked at the driver, Kingston, who was driving, very apologetically. “Kingston, has this little brat been so arrogant every day? She even looked down on you?”

After saying that, Sabrina then nagged Aino. “Aino! Don't you forget that it's your Uncle Kingston who had been sending you to school and picking you up after school! He i

"Hmph! I don't believe it! He is not like that in the hospital. I am the one leading the way for Uncle Kingston in the hospital!" Aino replied.

Sabrina was speechless.

"Little brat, how can you be so confident like your dad?"

Kingston, who was driving in front, stifled a laugh. 'Well, Madam, the little princess is Master Sebastian's child, so shouldn't she be just like her dad? What you said is absolutely true.'

"Madam, actually, the little princess' sense of direction is indeed very sharp and is much better than mine. This is the little princess' talent. Although I am so familiar with South City to the point where I know precisely where all the trash cans are in every corner, my sense of direction is not as good as hers," Kingston said.

Aino looked at Sabrina even more arrogantly. "How about it, Mom? Even Uncle Kingston has praised me. Haha."

"You're the most capable!"

Hana nodded. "Mm-hmm. Definitely."

Hana felt that her life before she was forty was unbearable. Her mother passed away, her father abandoned her, and her stepmother abused her. She finally got together with a man after many difficulties, but the stepmother abused her. She finally got together with a man after many difficulties, but the man drained her of all of her hard-earned money until she was bone dry. Even her biological daughter exploited and harmed her. Although her life before she was forty was truly beyond despair, everything had already turned for the better. All the despair and bad luck were in the past, the hard times for her had already ended and the good times had begun. After giving birth to the child in her belly, she planned to give birth to another child when she turned forty-three years old. After that, she would live her life well with Zayn and the two children, and get more in touch

...with Zayn and the two children, and get more in touch with Zayn's relatives. Life in the future would be more and more vibrant and exciting.

"Aunt Hana, let me show you." Aino turned around and went out of the ward to take Kingston's phone before returning. She then showed Hana a picture of a little baby on the phone.

"Look, Aunt Hana, how good looking is my younger brother? This is the younger brother that Aunt Jane had given me."

touched her lower abdomen. In another eight months, her child would also be born too. How great.

“Aino, you are my lucky star in this life, do you know that? If it weren’t for the first time you dragged your uncle to the corner of the wall to speak to me, I never could have escaped those shackles in this life. I never could have escaped from the abyss of misery in this life, let alone have a child in my belly. I have to treat you to a big meal after I am discharged from the hospital.”

“Sure, Aunt Hana,” said Aino with a smile.

The little child then chatted with her aunt in her ward for a

The little child then chatted with her aunt in her ward for a while. After she had accompanied her aunt to finish her dinner, she then went out of the ward in a lively manner and was led out of there by Kingston.

At that very moment, the man behind the high-powered binoculars was crouching in a shady corner at a faraway place, and he muttered to himself, "Such a lively, cute, and sensible child should be mine! Mine!"

Chapter 1784

The man had a sorrowful and depressed expression. He took another gulp of the alcohol. “How good I will be to you. I’ll play with you and I let you ride on my back like a horse. I have more time than that stinky bum. I don’t want anything! I don’t care about anything! I only want a family! Family! What’s wrong with that? Aino, you like me, right? I will be good to you. I will be good to your mother. Your mother is the bravest, most independent, strongest, and kindest woman in this world. That stinky bum doesn’t deserve to have your mother! He isn’t worthy of it! Where’s your mother? Why is it Where's your mother? Why is it that two of her good friends were hospitalized in a gynecology ward, but she still hasn't appeared? Aino, tell me, that stinky bum bullied her, didn't he? No, he will not bully her, but what he does best is ignore her. He has been busy with his career, his empire, and his brothers. How would he still have your mother in his eyes? Where is your mother? Is she still fine?"

Nobody could hear these words said by the man behind the high-powered binoculars, who was hidden in a corner. Like a drunkard, he drank himself till he was drunk as a skunk. After that, he sat on the floor and fell asleep. The next day was still a

that, he sat on the floor and fell asleep. The next day was still a day when he did not get to see Sabrina after he woke up. The man was going crazy from anxiety. However, that anxious feeling continued for another three more days. Then, he finally saw Sabrina's figure through the high-power binoculars.

Sabrina finally came to the hospital on the fifth day after Jane had given birth. She had been properly staying in bed at home for five days until the doctor told her, "Don't worry, Madam. There are absolutely no problems at all. Your baby is growing very well. However, if you were to go out, you absolutely shouldn't be you were to go out, you absolutely shouldn't be walking by yourself. You should take a car to prevent you from getting fatigued.”

“Haha, don't worry!” Sabrina instantly laughed. She thought that although Sebastian was very busy those days and would not be by her side, Kingston certainly would be following her. Even if she had to walk just a little, Kingston would certainly support her by her side, so it certainly would be fine.

Early in the morning, Sabrina selected maternity clothing that fitted her well, so she did not look that bulky and was a little fashionable. She even put on some light makeup.

little fashionable. She even put on some light makeup. Although she still had unconcealable freckles on her face, her complexion looked much better. She wore a pair of flats and left her house feeling very satisfied with herself.

She sat in Kingston's car and the extremely excited little child next to her. The little child did not go to school today. The teachers in her kindergarten went for training collectively, so all the children got a day off. The little child, Aino, had been looking forward to that day. During that period, she did not want to go to kindergarten anymore. She just wanted to come to the hospital to hug her younger brother every day.

every day.

“Haha. Mom, you certainly don't know which ward Aunt Jane is saying in. I know it, so I will take you there. I'm telling you, Mom, even Uncle Kingston doesn't know it as well as I do.”

Sabrina looked at the driver, Kingston, who was driving, very apologetically. “Kingston, has this little brat been so arrogant every day? She even looked down on you?”

After saying that, Sabrina then nagged Aino. “Aino! Don't you forget that it's your Uncle Kingston who had been sending you to school and picking you up after school! He i sending you to school and picking you up after school! He is so familiar with South City that he can precisely tell where the trash cans are in every corner, do you know that?"

"Hmph! I don't believe it! He is not like that in the hospital. I am the one leading the way for Uncle Kingston in the hospital!" Aino replied.

Sabrina was speechless.

"Little brat, how can you be so confident like your dad?"

Kingston, who was driving in front, stifled a laugh. 'Well, Madam, the little princess is Master Sebastian's child, so shouldn't she be just like her dad? What you said is absolutely true.'

dad? What you said is absolutely true.'

"Madam, actually, the little princess' sense of direction is indeed very sharp and is much better than mine. This is the little princess' talent. Although I am so familiar with South City to the point where I know precisely where all the trash cans are in every corner, my sense of direction is not as good as hers," Kingston said.

Aino looked at Sabrina even more arrogantly. "How about it, Mom? Even Uncle Kingston has praised me. Haha."

"You're the most capable!"

Sabrina was so annoyed that she poked Aino on her head. Aino then took the advantage t

“You’re the most capable!”

Sabrina was so annoyed that she poked Aino on her head. Aino then took the advantage to lean under her mother’s arm and placed her little hand on her mother’s belly.

Chapter 1785

Just like her mother, Aino was very much looking forward to her mother giving birth to a little baby soon. In the near future, Aino will be able to have another younger brother soon. Actually, Aino wanted to have a younger sister more. A younger sister would be prettier and would resemble Aino and her mother. However, after giving it some thought, it would be great for the baby to resemble her father as well. Well! It would be great if her mother had twins, then Aino could have a younger brother and a younger sister.

“Mom, the next time you have a little baby in your belly again, “Mom, the next time you have a little baby in your belly again, can you fit two in there, which means twins?” Aino looked at her mother very seriously.

Sabrina was speechless.

Kingston laughed. “Little princess, this thought of yours truly is very intriguing.”

“Why?” Sabrina asked.

Aino sighed. “Well, I want a younger brother at this moment, but at the next moment, I want a younger sister. I want both, what should I do? If you can give birth to two babies, a boy and a girl, then wouldn't all be good?”

The little child truly has a lot of love. She was unlike other children who envied

The little child truly has a lot of love. She was unlike other children, who only wanted their parents to have them as the only child and not have any younger siblings. Aino, on the other hand, thought the more younger siblings she had, the better it was. That warmed Sabrina's heart.

The car sped forward. Sabrina hugged Aino and looked at those balsam poplar trees and plane trees outside the window as they quickly passed them by. As the trees swept past her, Sabrina thought of the years that had already been in the past.

Seven years ago, she had a baby in her belly when she was in a tight spot with no way out. At seven years ago, she had a baby in her belly when she was in a tight spot with no way out. At that time, she did not even have the money to terminate her pregnancy. Also, she thought that she did not have a family and she needed a loved one for her to rely on, so she kept Aino. It was her child, Aino, who led her to all these subsequent children and these relatives. Aino is Sabrina's treasure. One that could never be replaced. Even if she had more children in the future, Aino would still be Aino. Sabrina hugged her child even tighter. The child also affectionately leaned closer to her mother. ①

The car stopped and they arrived at the hospital. Once

The car stopped and they arrived at the hospital. Once Kingston parked the car properly, Aino opened the door and hopped out of the car like a little rabbit. She took her mother's hand and introduced to her mother in extreme excitement while walking in. "Mom, let me tell you, you haven't been to Aunt Jane's ward, so you only know where Aunt Hana's ward is, right?"

Sabrina nodded. "So, you have to show me the way."

"Mom, follow me," said Aino.

"Alright!"

"Mom, walk slowly. Your belly is big, so you can't see the way. I will support you. Be careful, there are steps ahead." Aino will support you. Be careful, there are steps ahead." Aino carefully supported her mother. Sabrina had a happy smile on her face as she carefully walked up the steps.

"Mom, it's time to get on the elevator." Aino held her mother's hand and led her into the elevator.

"Mom, look, turn left after getting out of the elevator, then turn right and you'll be able to see Aunt Jane's ward. Uncle Kingston and I have been coming here every day, so we know quite a few families of the patients who are staying here," Aino introduced to her mother while walking.

Kingston was closely following behind them.

Kingston was closely following behind them.

Aino indeed has a great memory. She was walking in the forefront and she made no mistake at all in leading the way for her mother. They turned left and then turned right, and they saw Jane's ward once they turned the corner. At that moment, Sabrina also gradually walked into the view of the high-powered binoculars that was very far away. The man behind the high-powered binoculars shuddered and muttered to himself excitedly, "Sabrina, you've...finally appeared."
